

Welcome Homeschoolers!

We would like to welcome you to the Westfield Washington Public Library. We are here to help you in any way we can. You will find several information sheets in your welcome folder. Rest assured, our support of your endeavor does not stop there.

We welcome you to use library space for meetings and activities free of charge. As long as the requested day and time does not conflict with a program or other scheduled usage, requests are usually granted. You may request use of the craft room, story pit, Sumner Room or Community Room. Please request space at the adult reference desk. We also have six private study rooms that are available on a first-come, first-served basis.

We offer classes and special programs for homeschoolers. Some of our recent offerings have included art, chess, creative writing, drama, Lego robotics, science and foreign language. Many of these programs require pre-registration and pre-payment. Please check our web site regularly for current program information, sign up for our e-newsletter, or pick up a copy of the monthly calendar, available in the Children's Department. You may also ask, at the Children's desk, to be added to our homeschool email list, to receive information about any of our programs that we believe would be of special interest to homeschoolers. Please let us know if you have any ideas for programs you would like us to do.

If we do not have an item you need, please do not hesitate to request it. As part of the Evergreen consortium of libraries, we share resources with over 100 other libraries in the state of Indiana. Additionally, the adult reference desk can often obtain items through inter-library loan. You may also request that we purchase items for our collection. There are forms in both the adult and children's departments for this purpose. We make every effort to honor requests.

If you are not familiar with the library, or if you would like a refresher, mini-tours are available upon request. This is a large building full of all kinds of amazing resources. We want you to be aware of all of them. We also encourage you to ask for help whenever you have difficulty finding materials. Our primary function is to help you get what you need!

Please let us know if there is any information you would like us to add to our welcome packet for homeschoolers. It is difficult to keep up with all of the groups forming in this rapidly growing area. If your group is not listed, please give the pertinent information to Georgianne or Kim in the Children's Department.

Again, welcome to the Westfield Washington Public Library!

Homeschooling Styles

There are many ways to homeschool, and every family does it differently. Homeschooling is the most flexible school choice in that the parent has more control over subject matter, materials, and methods used. If a parent is not comfortable teaching a particular subject, there are many ways to outsource that class – many virtual private schools offer part-time enrollment, and there are single subject online opportunities as well. Professionally taught classes are available through several homeschool groups, the Westfield Washington Public Library, the YMCA, and more. Immersion into the culture of homeschooling and meeting others in this community can result in a staggering array of opportunities. It is important to note that in Indiana, homeschools are non-accredited private schools and are considered equal to other non-accredited private schools. The same standards apply. A summary of Indiana homeschooling laws is available on the Home School Legal Defense Association website:

<http://www.hslda.org/laws/analysis/Indiana.pdf> There is a wide range of educational philosophies and methods. The chart below does not represent all of them. It is intended to give an idea of the methods commonly used and discussed. The examples of common sources used are by no means a complete list – just a representation of a few common materials. (Updated 10/23/2018)

Educational Philosophy	Examples of Common Curricula Sources Used
Child-Directed Learning	Montessori Method, less formal/planned use of library materials and community opportunities
Classical Education	The Well-Trained Mind (Jessie Wise); Charlotte Mason; Trivium Pursuit; Memoria Press; Tapestry of Grace; Biblioplan; TruthQuest; Winter Promise
Computer-Based Education	Teaching Textbooks; Saxon Teacher; Switched-On School House; Robinson Curriculum; Time4Learning; ACE *To compare some of the top, on-line homeschools, go to https://www.consumeraffairs.com/education/online-homeschools/
Distance Learning	Clonlara School; Calvert Academy; Griggs International Academy; Laurel Springs School; National Repository of Online Courses (Hippo Campus); Bob Jones Satellite
Eclectic Homeschooling	Tend to use bits and pieces of all types of sources to fit individual needs
Formal Curriculum	McGraw-Hill; Houghton-Mifflin; Scott Foresman; Holt; Bob Jones; A Beka; Alpha Omega; Saxon; Christian Liberty; Calvert; Rod and Staff
Homemade Curriculum	Free internet sources; workbooks; library sources; books/videos/computer sources; projects, etc.
Literature-Based Curriculum	Sonlight; Charlotte Mason; Winter Promise; Robinson Curriculum; Accelerated Achievement; Beautiful Feet; Five in a Row
Principle Approach	The Providence Foundation; Richard "Little Bear" Wheeler; Noah Plan; KONOS

Extracurricular Opportunities for Homeschoolers

The businesses and organizations on this list have at some point in time offered opportunities especially for homeschoolers, or they have been recommended as homeschooler-friendly, or have expressed an interest in working with homeschoolers. Availability of programs and classes varies, so please call or check the business website for current information. Please let us know if there is an organization that should be added to this list.

Adventure

Adventure Club

The Adventure Club is a group of teenaged homeschoolers who like to push the edge of their comfort zone, get into the outdoors, and make plenty of new friends. Each month, the club gets together to do a different adventurous activity, such as canoeing, rock wall climbing, paint balling, and much more. The club is open to all homeschoolers ages 13 – 17. Cost is kept to a minimum (approximately $20 per activity).

American Heritage Girls

American Heritage Girls allows girls ages 5 to 18 to experience new challenges, serve others, make new friends and have tons of fun, all in a safe, faith-filled environment. Whether your daughter wants to learn more about aviation, learn to paddle a canoe, or ice the perfect cake, AHG's program is ready to inspire her to new heights. AHG troop IN2324 meets in Noblesville at White River Christian Church the first three Tuesdays of each month, from 4:30 to 6:00 p.m. The program year is typically mid-August through mid-May, with special activities scheduled throughout the summer to allow the girls to continue to build friendships. This troop is a blend of homeschooling, public school and private school families.

Drama and Public Speaking

National Christian Forensics and Communications Association (NCFCA)

The mission of NCFCA is to promote excellence in communications through competitive opportunities where homeschool students develop the skills necessary to think critically and communicate effectively in order to address life issues from a biblical worldview in a manner that glorifies God.

NCFCA offers eleven speech events, which are divided into three main categories; Platform Speaking, Interpretive Speaking, and Limited Preparation Speaking. Each of these categories offers distinct opportunities for students to develop their communication skills.

Two styles of debate are offered in the NCFCA: Team Policy Debate and Lincoln Douglas Value Debate. Team Policy (TP) Debate advocates a change in policy while Lincoln Douglas (LD) Value Debate centers on a proposition of values. All NCFCA debaters learn research skills, respectful argumentation, refutation, organization, and effective presentation and speaking skills.

Hamilton County is part of Region VI, which includes Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio, and Wisconsin. You can contact your regional representative for more information through the website below.

Eppert Piano Studio

Since 1988, Eppert Piano Studio has nurtured the total development of children through innovative music curricula in the Fishers area. Teacher Sally Eppert believes that ALL children are able to learn the language of music, that ALL children deserve to find the joy of making music through the use of stories and emotions while playing their pieces, and that it is important to teach about music and music theory while learning to play the piano. This premier music program involves families in the joy of their children's musical learning by inviting a parent to come into class the last 10 minutes for sharing time and asking the parent to help with the daily practice at home.

Alternative Educators' Network (AEN)

AEN has created an unmoderated, open e.list for discussing Alternative Education ideas; ideas that go beyond the monolithic system of public education that we have today. The popular discussions and frequently asked questions are, for the most part, centered on homeschooling. But this list is not limited to JUST homeschooling. Private Schoolers, Charter Schoolers, and even public school teachers and administrators are welcome to join in the conversation.
