GENERAL STATEMENT

The Westfield Washington Public Library welcomes the use of its bulletin boards and handout racks by responsible organizations and groups engaged in educational, cultural, intellectual, civic and charitable activities.

WHO MAY USE THE BULLETIN BOARDS AND HANDOUT RACKS

The bulletin boards and handout racks are available for use by civic, community cultural, educational, political, or religious organizations for non-commercial and non-profit purposes. The space will be available to groups in the community regardless of the beliefs and affiliations of their individual members.

Display of items on the bulletin boards and in the handout racks does not constitute library endorsement of the viewpoints expressed in the items.

The bulletin boards and handout racks are not available for personal or family use, or for purely social use.

Items shall not contain language that may be deemed insulting, offensive, foul or abusive. In addition, graphics containing sexual references are strictly forbidden.

Items may be refused based on: size, available space, and anticipated demand.

The Children's Department shall maintain lists of babysitters, day-care providers, tutors, and other personal services that are fee-based but considered relevant to library activities. Posting of names on this list shall not, however, be considered an endorsement by the library.

FEES AND CHARGES

There is no fee or charge for the display of items on the bulletin boards or in the handout racks.

USE OF THE BULLETIN BOARDS AND HANDOUT RACKS

The bulletin boards and handout racks may be used to display items of educational, cultural, intellectual or charitable interest to the community. Items advertising a one time only sale will be displayed. Items directly concerned with the library will always be displayed. No items will be excluded due to viewpoint.

Items will be removed from the bulletin boards and handout racks by a library representative as outlined below:

Items that become dated will be removed from the bulletin boards and handout racks and will be disposed of as deemed appropriate. For example, posters announcing meetings will be removed after the meeting, and pamphlets announcing the availability of information will be removed after the time period of availability is over. Other items will be removed after one month, unless there is space available and the item is considered to be of general interest. Items directly concerned with the library will be displayed as long as appropriate.

Due to space limitations, no regularly published materials, such as newsletters or reports, will be distributed from the library, except publications originated by the library or the Friends of the Westfield Library.

SECURITY

The library does not assume any responsibility or liability for items submitted for display on the bulletin boards or in the handout racks.

DAMAGES

The organization/individual assumes responsibility for any damage incurred.

WESTFIELD WASHINGTON PUBLIC LIBRARY CODE OF CONDUCT

Welcome to the Westfield Washington Public Library. Our goal is to offer the best service possible to all library visitors in a safe and pleasant atmosphere. Each person can help by following these rules:

The Westfield Washington Public Library welcomes children of all ages and strives to create a warm, inviting learning environment. The Library offers many programs and services that encourage children to develop a love of books, learning and reading. However, the Library is a public building, and the well-being of young children using the library rests with the child's parent/guardian or designated caregiver.

- Children under the age of 11 must be accompanied by a parent/guardian or designated caregiver in the library.
- Children under the age of five must be accompanied and directly supervised by a parent/guardian or designative caregiver at all times while in the library, including library programming.
- Parents/guardians/caregivers are responsible for the conduct of the children under their supervision. If the child's conduct is deemed a danger to themselves, disruptive to others, or is destructive to library property, this will be considered a violation of this code of conduct. The child and the caretaker will be asked to leave the building.
- The responsibility for the safety and behavior of children in the library rests with the parent/caregiver and not with library personnel. If children are unattended at closing time, every effort will be made to contact a parent/caregiver. If arrangements cannot be made for immediate pickup, local authorities may be contacted.

Food and drink are allowed only in the approved areas.

Shoes and shirts are to be worn at all times.

Persons whose bodily hygiene is offensive as to constitute a nuisance to other patrons may be asked to leave the building.

For everyone's safety running, rollerblading, skateboarding, and scooters are prohibited in the library and the parking lot.

Sleeping, gambling, begging, soliciting, or sales are prohibited on library property.

Alcohol, illegal substances, and weapons are prohibited on library property.

Smoking is not permitted in the library building.

Abusive, threatening or obscene language will not be tolerated on library property.

Any form of sexual misconduct, including exposure, offensive touch or sexual harassment of other patrons or staff is not permitted on library property.

Inappropriate behavior, such as being disruptive, monopolizing staff time, or running, which disturbs other library users or staff is not permitted.

Persons under the influence of illegal drugs or alcohol are not permitted on library property.

Theft, damage, or destruction of library property is a crime and WILL be prosecuted.

Striking another (battery) or threats to harm another (assault) will be cause to contact the Westfield Police Department.

Pornography, tampering with computer security measures or emergency locks or systems is not permitted on library property and will be prosecuted.

The Westfield Washington Public Library reserves the right to withdraw library privileges, including being on the premises, from any person whose behavior is disruptive, is inappropriate for a library environment, or interferes with the use of the library by others. The library board of trustees authorizes the library staff and law enforcement officers to enforce this code of conduct. Uncooperative persons will be cause for the Westfield Police to be summoned. Thank you for your cooperation.

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT POLICY

INTRODUCTION

This policy is intended to serve as a guide for library staff in building and maintaining a collection to meet the needs of the residents of the Westfield Washington Public Library service area. Collection development includes the selection, acquisition, and removal of all print, nonprint and electronic resources.

MISSION & VISION STATEMENT

The Westfield Washington Public Library's mission is to foster exploration, discovery and growth. The vision is to be the cornerstone of lifelong learning in Westfield and Washington Township.

RESPONSIBILITY

Collection development is entrusted to the Director of the Westfield Washington Public Library as directed by current policies that have been adopted by the Library Board of Trustees. The delegation of responsibilities for selection in specific subject areas and formats regarding the evaluation, acquisition, retention and withdrawal of materials rests with the Library Director.

SCOPE

The scope of the collection is intended to meet the cultural, educational, informational and recreational needs of all residents of Westfield Washington Public Library service area by offering a choice of level of difficulty, format and treatment within current budget guidelines and constraints. In October of 2009 the library became a member of Evergreen Indiana, a statewide library consortium. Member libraries share a combined online catalog, allowing their patrons access to hundreds of thousands of library materials owned by other member libraries. Most of these items may be placed on hold and borrowed via an inter-library courier service. In order to better serve the needs of its residents, the Library staff will encourage the use of Interlibrary Loan for those items that are not available from another Evergreen Indiana member library and are infrequently requested. The emphasis is on acquiring materials of wide-ranging interest and varying complexity for the general public. The collection is reviewed and revised on an on-going basis to meet the evolving needs of this community.

SELECTION CRITERIA & TOOLS

The following selection criteria are not ranked in any particular order:

- A. Popular demand and requests
- B. Favorable reviews from professional library resources
- C. Accuracy of information
- D. Budget
- E. Individual merit of each item

- F. Availability of material
- G. Relationship of existing materials in collection
- H. Balance of diverse points of view
- I. Core collection enhancement

The Library's existing collection, the interests and needs of the community, the individual merit of each item, the Library's budget and its services are the primary factors taken into account when selecting materials. Being a member of the Evergreen Indiana Library Consortium in no way removes the Westfield Washington Public Library's responsibility to purchase library materials for its service area's taxpayers and the Library will continue to make purchases suitable for its local users based on the aforementioned factors. Each title is judged as a whole; isolated passages in and of themselves are not used as selection/deselection criteria. As far as possible, the Library will provide materials providing various viewpoints about controversial issues that illustrate careful study, give evidence of a sincere desire to be factual, and are written in a fair manner.

WEEDING, DISCARDING & REPLACEMENT OF MATERIALS

In order to maintain a vital collection which meets the needs of our community, the examination of materials is an ongoing process. Weeding will be done with the same care and thought as selection. An item may be considered for discard when it is: obsolete or contains inaccurate information, is worn in appearance, is damaged beyond repair, no longer circulates, or is a multiple copy. Withdrawn materials may be donated to the Friends of the Westfield Library. Materials chosen for withdrawal may be replaced if they are still in print and are of continuing value to the collection.

FORMAT

Formats include print, audiovisual, non-print, multimedia materials and downloadable materials. Library staff monitors the development of new formats and, within budgetary and technical limitations, adds these to the collection. Choice of new formats will be based on customer demand, community trends, new product development and positive critical reviews.

INTERLIBRARY LOAN

The Westfield Washington Public Library cannot purchase all materials. Interlibrary loan is used for items that are not available through Evergreen Indiana, and will not be purchased due to limited budget, space, availability or being beyond the scope of the library's collection.

DONATIONS

The library accepts gifts of materials, but reserves the right to evaluate and dispose of them in accordance with the criteria applied to purchased materials. The library retains the authority to accept or reject gifts and to make all decisions as to their use, housing and final disposition. Materials not added to the collection may be donated to the Friends of the Westfield Library, with all profits benefiting the Westfield Washington Public Library. A receipt for tax purposes is available upon request. By law, library staff are not allowed to assess a "fair market" value to the donation. Donations not accepted include but are not limited to: magazines, damaged items, outdated technical or medical books, or items which are damp or smell of mold or mildew.

GIFTS

Memorial gifts of materials or money are gladly accepted with suitable recognition placed in the item if requested. Specific memorial books can be ordered for the library on request of a patron if the request meets the established selection criteria. The Westfield Washington Public Library encourages and appreciates gifts.

CHALLENGED MATERIALS

The Westfield Washington Public Library staff recognizes that some materials are controversial and that any given item may offend some patrons. Selection of materials will not be made on the basis of anticipated approval or disapproval, but solely on the basis of the principles stated in this policy.

Patrons requesting that material be withdrawn from or restricted within the collection should first be given a “Statement of Concern About Library Resources” form to fill out. This will then be forwarded to the appropriate department manager. Upon request the department manager will contact the patron. The form is then given to the Library Director. If the patron is still unsatisfied the Library Director may take the request before the library board.

ELECTRONIC RESOURCES

The criteria and tools used to select printed materials also apply to the selection of electronic resources that include, but are not limited to, online services, online commercial databases and resources on the Internet. A link to a website from WWPL does not imply endorsement of the contents of that site or of a particular point-of-view.

Preface:

In no way is this manual intended to be used in place of competent, professional advice from the insurance agent, local fire department, police, etc.

The overriding advantage of any planning of this sort is that a library director and all staff at least consider the factors involved in a disaster as it might impact on the library they serve.

The greatest advantage is that it may prevent a disaster from happening. If a library takes its responsibility seriously and confers with its insurance agent, civil defense director, etc., potential dangers may be avoided.

A careful survey of storage spaces should be made: examples of damage that could be avoided; rare books should not be stored near air-conditioning equipment, nor should any books be stored on basement floors at least not on bottom shelves.

There is no substitute for good maintenance of buildings, especially roofs and gutters; of equal importance is fire and water detection equipment.

DEFINITIONS

Partial disaster – A disastrous event has occurred which rendered the computers inoperable for up to a week, but access to the office is not affected.

Complete disaster - A disastrous event has occurred which has affected the office to the extent that the office will be inaccessible for an extended period of time or the computers must be replaced.

List of Emergency Equipment and Supplies

- Radio

- Emergency kits
- Flashlights
- Old blankets

Procedures to follow in the event of an emergency:

When an emergency occurs, if the Director or no one on the Disaster Team is present, the person with Closing Responsibilities will be in charge and dispatch others to do various functions. If present the Building Manager will know where various shut off valves are located. If not there is a diagram in the Appendix showing where they are located.

BOMB THREAT

Call 911: alert the Director or person in charge if present.

Evacuate the building immediately.

If phoned in, see Checklist/Written report in the Appendix of this plan try to fill in what you can at the time, when bomb will go off, etc.

After it is decided that evacuation is necessary:

1. The Director/Circulation Staff will use the PA system to alert the staff and the public.
2. Secure the money (if time warrants)
3. Staff should get flashlights and evacuate themselves and patrons from the library.
4. Secure all doors as though closing time
5. As the evacuation proceeds, staff should look for signs of anything unusual or ways that a bomb could be hidden. Information should be given to the person in charge once outside the library.
6. Once outside the Library, staff should gather in the Parking Lot to wait for further instructions. Each department should take a head count and report any missing staff members.

DO NOT RETURN to the library until the police say that the building is secure and safe.

Some thoughts pertaining to Bomb Threats:

1. It is suggested by some officials that you keep the person on the telephone as long as possible.
2. Check the telephone display for caller ID information.
3. Note any pertinent information, such as voice, sex, location if possible, use checklist provided.
4. Call 911
5. Report to the Director or person in charge.
6. Follow the directions of the police and the Director. (The decision to evacuate is not the responsibility of the police)
7. If decision is to evacuate the building, physically visit all rooms to make sure everyone is out.
8. Make sure everyone is a minimum of 350 feet from the building.

Mail Bombs:

The FBI suggests that the threat of terrorist action has increased markedly in recent years, and there have been a number of bombs placed in packages and letters. These are mailed or delivered to an unsuspecting target of the terrorist. If the item is not recognized as a potential explosive message, the recipient may be badly injured or killed. It is good to know the earmarks of parcel and mail bombs. Here are some clues:

- Parcel wrapped in reused brown paper
- Parcel with address handwritten directly on wrapping paper Parcel/letter from unexpected foreign address
- Parcel/letter with greasy marks
- Parcel/letter addressed with an illiterate hand Parcel/letter smelling of almonds or marzipan
- Parcel that sounds of loose metal when shaken gently

- Parcel with wires or metal strip poking out Parcel with springing sides (press gently)

- Parcel heavy for size
- Parcel packed lopsidedly
- Envelope with pinholes or perforations in odd places
- Envelope stiffened with a card or with metal (flex gently)

If parcel or letter is suspect:

1. Call the police at once
2. Never put a suspect packet/letter in water. Explosive devices are designed to go off when opened and water dissolves the gum holding the packet together.

TERRORISM

Terrorism is behavior that is violent and/or inspires fear in order to intimidate others into granting demands. There is always the possibility, no matter however remote, that someone may choose the library as a place to terrorize people. They could threaten with extreme violence, hold people at gunpoint, take hostages, or even kill.

Because of the assumed violent nature of terrorists, the situation should be handled delicately. Nothing should be done which might upset the person(s). Attempts to inform the person in charge of the library and the police (911) should be done discretely i.e. don't use the PA system. If you are able to engage the panic button at the Public Services Desks (Children's, Adult or Circulation) please do so, this goes directly to the police station.

The staff's objective would be to minimize the number of people under the terrorist's control.

Action to be taken:

1. When someone engages in terrorist activities in the library, staff should stay clear and try to do what the terrorist(s) tells them to do.
2. Employees who are aware of the activity, but are beyond the terrorist's own awareness, should attempt to call 911 or press the panic button.
3. If possible, an employee who is able should inform all departments. It may be difficult to determine which departments are affected; nevertheless, staff and patrons should not be left in ignorance to a potentially dangerous situation.
4. If possible to do so, without endangering lives, staff should evacuate themselves and patrons from the library.
5. Employees should not try to be heroes. We are not trained to handle this kind of a situation. Leave things to the police and other emergency personnel.
6. Once the danger has passed, it may be necessary to check for first aid treatment and/or call 911 for an ambulance.
7. The person in charge should see to it that an Incident Report and, if necessary an Accident Report are filed.

EXPLOSION

Explosions may result from leaking gas, faulty heating equipment, flammable vapors or a deliberately set explosive device.

Action to be taken:

Approved 8/14/2024

1. If there is a warning, seek shelter immediately under a heavy table. Care must be taken to protect oneself from flying glass and debris.
2. Announce over the PA system that there has been an explosion and the location.
3. The Director or person in charge will call 911 and report the explosion. The fire department should determine the source of the explosion and verify whether the building is structurally sound.
4. At the same time, staff should get flashlights and evacuate themselves and customers to the outside of the building.
5. Staff should attend to seriously injured persons until medical help arrives without endangering their own lives.
6. If the explosion has ruptured water or gas pipes, the Building Manager or person in charge should turn them off where pipes enter the building (see diagram in the Appendix)
7. Once outside, staff should gather in the parking lot. Each department should take a head count and report any missing staff members.
8. Do not re-enter the building unless it has been declared safe. No one should interfere with the activities of emergency personnel.
9. If the explosion results in damage to library materials, follow procedures under the Recovery and Assessment section of this manual.

MEDICAL EMERGENCY

In a serious emergency, an ambulance should be called immediately. When in doubt, call the ambulance.

All injuries and accidents, even minor ones, should be reported on appropriate forms. Copies of the Incident/Accident Report forms are in the Appendix of this plan. What appears to be minor may turn out to be more serious than originally thought.

Care should be taken to avoid communicable diseases such as AIDS. All incidents involving presence of blood or potentially infectious materials must be reported to the person in charge before the library closes the same day. (See Blood borne Pathogens Exposure Control Plan)

Action to be taken:

1. When an employee becomes aware that a staff member or patron is seriously injured or ill, he or she should call 911 and ask for an ambulance.
2. Employees with First Aid and CPR training should be contacted and proceed to the location to see if they can assist until the ambulance arrives.
3. If the injury was the result of an accident or other incident, witnesses should be sought. Names, addresses and phone numbers of witnesses should be written down.
4. All employees who are not assisting with the emergency should continue their work unless impossible. Patrons should be kept out of the way.
5. The person in charge of the library should make sure that an Injury Report and/or an Incident Report are filled out promptly.
6. Special care should be taken if any body fluids are involved. Such incidents must be reported to the person in charge before the library closes the same day.
7. Make sure area is cleaned up and disinfected immediately following the incident.

INTERNAL FLOOD

Internal flooding can occur as the result of pipes bursting, overflowing or a leaking roof. The flooding is generally confined to one area.

Action to be taken:

1. The employee who first notices the flooding should inform the Building Manager and the Director.
2. The Building Manager or the Director should determine the exact location and cause of the flooding.
3. Undamaged books and materials should be moved out of the cleanup area.
4. Steps should be taken to stop the flooding by turning off the water source or stopping the leak.
5. If necessary and possible, move all materials out of the flooded area.
6. All unnecessary staff should be evacuated from the flooded area.
7. The Building Manager or the Director should make sure all electrical circuits into the affected area are turned off. No one should come in contact with water until an electrician has declared the area safe.
8. The area should be drained and dried as soon as possible to prevent moisture damage to books.
9. If books or other library materials are damaged, see directions under the Recovery and Assessment Section of this plan.

POWER FAILURE

Electric power failure can be caused by severe winter storms, ice storms, heavy winds, thunder storms and heat waves when air conditioners use too much power.

Action to be taken:

1. Call Duke Energy to report the outage (using cell phone).
2. Evacuate areas of darkness as a safety precaution. Check all restrooms.
3. Staff should turn off all electrical equipment, especially computers (including servers), to prevent damage from a power surge when power is restored.
4. Call the Director who will decide whether or not to close.
5. Note: Emergency lights are only for the purpose of evacuation and can remain lit as much as one hour or as little as 15 minutes. The battery level for lights should be checked regularly. Push the test button at least twice a year.
6. Electrical failure will cause telephones, computers, etc., to be inoperable.

FIRE

The triangle of fire defines the three components, which must always be present for a fire to occur. Removal of any of the three will stop or prevent a fire:

1. Fuel. Any substance capable of burning
2. Oxidizer. Air is the most common
3. Ignition source. Flame or heat.

The library's fire detection system is connected to the Westfield Fire Department. In case of a fire, they should be alerted automatically; however the person in charge should also call 911.

Action to be taken:

Approved 8/14/2024

1. When fire has been detected, help evacuate the indicated area and cooperate with fire department as to whether or not to clear the building.
2. If any kind of fire breaks out – other than simple waste-basket fire – EVACUATE!
3. Go to any exterior door and activate the fire alarm on the wall.
4. Staff should get flashlights and evacuate themselves and patrons from the library. If there is smoke it may be necessary to crawl.
5. As the evacuation proceeds the staff should close all doors
6. No one should attempt to extinguish the fire unless it is very small and self-contained, such as in a wastebasket. Only trained staff should use a fire extinguisher. (See fire extinguisher instructions in appendix.)
7. Once outside the library, staff should gather in the south end of the parking lot. Each department should take a head count and report any missing staff members.
8. If the fire is intense be sure everyone is a good distance away because there could be exploding windows.
9. No one should re-enter the building unless it is declared safe. No one should interfere with emergency personnel.
10. If the fire results in damage to materials in the library, see recovery and assessment section of this plan.

TORNADO EMERGENCY PROCEDURE

 - children's department
 - lactation room
- The supervisor can take the weather radio with them or use their cell phone to find out when the danger has passed. If the tornado siren outside has stopped then it is ok to leave your designated area.
- The supervisor and another staff person should leave designated area and assess the situation.
- If there is damage in the building please return to the designated area and dial 911. Tell the authorities what you know.
- If all clear is given the supervisor will announce on the PA system.
- The supervisor on duty will unlock the main entrance doors and remove the signs.

EARTHQUAKE

Earthquakes are rare in this part of the United States. It is not the actual movement of the ground, which causes most injury and deaths. The danger comes from falling debris, flying glass, etc.

Preparations:

1. Be aware of surroundings – windows, walls and freestanding dangers.
2. Know location of nearest spot of relative safety – under a desk, table, etc.
3. Know location of most accessible exit along with several alternatives.

During the Earthquake:

1. Remain calm
2. Staff and patrons should stay indoors
3. Staff and patrons should immediately move to shelter either within a doorway, narrow corridor, or under a heavy table or desk.
4. No attempts should be made to use exits or stairwells as they may collapse
5. Use the PA system to announce that everyone is safest under doorways, to stay clear of possible falling objects – such as stacks and windows, if possible have them come to the main desk and you can direct them to safety. Should instruct someone to get staff and patrons that are in inaccessible areas of the library.

6. Otherwise, it is best to stay where you are, await instruction on radio or in person from Civil Defense, Police or the Red Cross.
7. Be certain the tremor has ceased before moving from cover.
8. The supervisor on duty should notify the fire department if any fires have broken out. Staff with first aid training should assist those who are trapped or injured.
9. Evacuate the building if it is safe to do so. Staff should take the responsibility of leading patrons out of the building safely. Locate and use flashlights if necessary.
10. Staff should check for people still in the building as they are leaving. They should also check for shorting electrical circuits, leaking fuel or other hazardous materials, or anything else, which should be reported once outside the building.
11. Once outside, staff should gather at the south end of the parking lot. Each department should make sure its entire staff is present. Missing staff should be reported.
12. Do not reenter the building unless it has been declared sound.
13. Do not use the telephone. Leave telephones for authorized emergency personnel.
14. Do not run water until the sewage line has been checked.

Dangers:

1. Wall/ceilings collapsing.
2. Broken glass shards and glass explosions
3. Movements of large fixtures (book stacks, internal walls)
4. Fire, gas leaks, power lines
5. Water leaks.
6. PANIC
7. Looting, violence, etc.

After an earthquake:

1. Check yourself for injuries.
2. Check other employees for injuries and render first aid (if qualified).
3. Do not move an injured person unless further injury threatens them (Structural hazards).
4. Check for fires and fire hazards, especially gas leaks or electrical sparks.

CHEMICAL OR GAS SPILL

Action to be taken:

1. Call 911 or Westfield Fire Department 317-896-2704
2. Alert the Director or supervisor on duty
3. May have to shut off air conditioners and vents.
4. Do not let anyone leave the building, until instructed by the Fire Department or Civil Defense.
5. Civil Defense or Fire Department will send individuals with badges for identification, to instruct as to whether the building is safe and whether to shut off the air conditioning and vents.
6. Civil Defense / or the Hazardous Emergency Response Team of the Fire Department will call us with an "all clear."

FLOOD

The person in charge should see to the following, as time allows:

1. Evacuate anyone not helping to prepare the library for the flood.
2. Close off master electrical switches and gas. See maps in appendix.
3. Move high priority materials to the upper levels of the library.
4. Wrap unmovable valuable equipment in plastic.
5. Secure loose objects or move them away from windows and place them above the floor.
6. Evacuate the building.
7. If flooding occurs, follow directions under the Recovery and Assessment portion of this plan.

HEATING & COOLING

The library's heating or air conditioning (HVAC) may fail. If the problem lasts long enough, building temperatures may become too uncomfortable and the library should be closed.

Action to be taken:

1. When it becomes apparent that the HVAC is not functioning properly, the Director and should be informed.

RODENTS

Rodents are generally a seasonal problem. During cold weather, a warm building provides an attractive home. Not only are rats and mice a potential problem, pigeons, raccoons and snakes might move indoors.

1. Proper maintenance and housekeeping should provide evidence of rodents.
2. Eliminate all access points that rodents may use to enter the building. Plug holes in foundation walls, particularly around water, sewer and gas mains. Consultation with a pest control company may be helpful.
3. Eliminate Accumulation of waste and debris. Ensure that eating and drinking are not allowed in collection areas and that leftover food from other areas is disposed of promptly and properly.

Action to be taken:

1. An employee who notices signs of a rodent should inform the Library Director.
2. Library Director should see to it that the rodents are eliminated.
3. When necessary, call in a professional exterminator.
4. Ensure that dead rodents are located and disposed of.

INSECTS

A number of insects may find a library an attractive environment.

If at any time a staff member sees something that might be a sign of termites, it should be reported to the Director. Proper maintenance and housekeeping should provide early warning signs of infestation.

Action to be taken:

1. An employee who notices an insect should inform the supervisor of the affected area. The supervisor will decide if the director should be informed.

Approved 8/14/2024

2. If the insect is unknown, try to capture a specimen and have it identified. Do not crush specimen. Note date and location of the find.
3. Immediately carry out an inspection to determine the extent of the infestation and transfer all infected materials to an isolated room or bag. Dispose of materials infested beyond use.
4. Identify the source of infestation and eliminate it.
5. Carefully vacuum the affected area and materials to remove dust, dirt, eggs, etc. before replacing the fumigated materials.
6. For minor infestation, use non-chemical means of control such as glue boards wherever possible. For major infestations, extensive chemical treatments may be required. A conservator must be consulted. Chemical treatments may be hazardous to collection materials and human health and life.
7. After treatment, check collection materials regularly for at least six months.

RECOVERY AND ASSESSMENT

In the case of damaged library materials where salvage efforts appear to be necessary, the first and foremost person to be contacted is the Library Director. Someone must be making decisions as soon as possible.

Once the Director, or whoever is in charge, determines that salvage is definitely necessary, recommended steps to be taken are outline below and should be used as they apply to the situation.

Do not attempt to separate wet pages if they are going to be freeze-vacuum-dried. If they were not going to be freeze-vacuum-dried then a sheet of wax paper would need to put between each leaf. Do not heat water-soaked books in an effort to dry them.

Action to be taken:

1. Contact and experienced conservator – Northeast Document Conservation Center – 978-470-1010 or www.nedcc.org.
2. Assemble a Recovery Team. This team is a decision-making body and should include the conservator, library Director, Assistant Director (s) and Manager(s) of the damaged collection.
3. Assess the damage. If necessary, be sure to get safety clearance from authorized emergency personnel before entering a disaster site. An examination of the damage must be made before a course of action can be determined. This should be done with as little handling of the materials as possible. It is a good idea to video or take pictures as you assess the building.
4. Stabilize the environment. Generally this means lowering the temperature and relative humidity to prevent mold growth.
5. Secure areas. It may be necessary to restrict access to the site to prevent theft or to keep curious people out of the way.
6. Set up work areas. An office with a phone near the site would be useful for people in charge of the salvage. A staff member or volunteer should be assigned to act as a secretary. A dry room also near the site can be used for drying, packing and cleaning materials.
7. Acquire supplies and services. Depending upon the particular situation, supplies not normally kept by libraries may be needed. For example: fans, milk crates, and freezer trucks. (See list of Resources and Services in Appendix).
8. Check on insurance.
9. Get cost estimates for Building, books, computers, other materials, furniture, etc.

Approved 8/14/2024

10. Take care of media coverage. Assign someone to handle public relations and all media inquiries.
11. Arrange for auxiliary services. Workers will have needs which might be taken care of best near the site. Bring in food, provide a quiet place for breaks, and set up a first aid station.
12. The team needs to plan for cleaning the building.

13. Make sure a log is kept of the recovery process.

14. Revise Disaster plan if necessary.

Westfield Washington Public Library Blood Borne Pathogens Exposure Control Plan

In accordance with the OSHA Blood borne Pathogens Standard, 29 CFR 1910, 1030, the following exposure control plan has been developed. This plan will be reviewed annually and updated accordingly.

Definitions

- Blood – means human blood, human blood components, and products made from human blood.
- Blood borne Pathogens – includes pathogenic microorganisms that are present in human blood. Human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) and hepatitis B are the specifically mentioned concerns.
- Other Potentially Infectious Materials (OPIM) includes: Semen, vaginal secretions, cerebrospinal, synovial fluid, Pleural, pericardial, peritoneal fluid, Amniotic fluid, Fluid visibly contaminated with blood, All body fluids in situations where it is difficult or impossible to differentiate between fluids, Any unfixed tissue or organ (other than intact skin) from a human (living or dead), HIV-containing cell, tissue organ cultures, HIV – or HBV-containing culture medium, blood, organs, tissues from experimental animals infected with HIV or HBV.

Under section (f) (2) of the standard, hepatitis B vaccination must be offered to all employees who have occupational exposure to blood or other OPIM. However, as a matter of policy violations will be considered de minimis and citations will not be issued when designated employees who have occupational exposure are not offered pre-exposure hepatitis B vaccine if the following conditions exist:

1. The primary job assignment of such designated employees is not one where occupational exposure is anticipated.
2. The employer's Exposure Control Plan specifically addresses the provision of hepatitis B vaccine to all unvaccinated employees who have rendered assistance in any situation involving the presence of blood or OPIM, post-exposure evaluation, prophylaxis and follow-up.
3. The employer must implement a procedure to ensure that all the provisions are complied with if pre-exposure hepatitis B vaccine is not to be given.

Exposure Determination

The following employees may incur exposure to blood or OPIM:

1. Any employee providing First Aid to Staff or patrons Maintenance Staff
2. All reference to employees in this document shall mean the two categories above.

Compliance Methods

Universal precautions will be observed in order to prevent contact with blood or OPIM. All blood of OPIM will be considered Infectious regardless of the perceived status of the source individual. Work practices will be utilized to eliminate or minimize exposure to employees. For that purpose: Hand washing facilities are available After removal of protective gloves, employees shall wash hands and any other potentially contaminated skin area immediately or as soon as feasible, with soap and water for at least 10 seconds.

If employees incur exposure to their skin or mucous membranes then those areas shall be washed or flushed with water as appropriate as soon as feasible following contact.

Personal Protective Equipment

Gloves shall be worn where it is reasonably anticipated that employees will have hand contact with blood, OPIM, non-intact skin and mucous membranes. Gloves are to be replaced when torn, punctured or the ability to function as a barrier is compromised. Disposable gloves are not to be reused. Gloves used at the library will be provided without cost to employees. Gloves will be chosen based on the anticipated exposure to blood or OPIM. The gloves will be considered appropriate only if they do not permit blood or conditions of use and for the duration that they are used.

Gloves are available in drawers under the mailboxes.

Decontamination

All contaminated surfaces (i.e. carpet, shelf) will be decontaminated immediately or as soon as feasible after any spill of blood or OPIM.

Hepatitis B Vaccine

All employees who have been identified as having exposure to blood or OPIM will be offered the Hepatitis B vaccine at no cost to the employee unless the employee has previously had the vaccine or wishes to submit to antibody testing which shows the employee to have sufficient immunity.

Employees may go to their personal health provider if available to provide Gamma Globulin* within 4 hours after exposure. Otherwise, employees should go to a local emergency room within 4 hours of exposure. Services can be billed to the library or the employee can be reimbursed.

Approved 8/14/2024

Employees who decline the Hepatitis B vaccine must sign a waiver. Employees who initially decline the vaccine but who later wish to have it may then have the vaccine at no cost.

*Gamma Globulin provides immediate passive immunity and is not the same as the Hepatitis B vaccine.

Post-Exposure Evaluation and Follow-up

When an employee incurs an exposure incident, it should immediately be reported to the Director of the library using an Accident Report Form. Follow-up to an exposure incident will include through the aid of health care professionals:

1. Documentation of the incident of exposure and the circumstances related to the incident.
2. The employee will be offered post exposure HBV in accordance with the current recommendations of the U.S. Public Health Service within 24 hours following exposure.
3. The employee will be given appropriate counseling concerning precautions to take during the period after the exposure incident.
4. The employee will also be given information on what potential illnesses to be alert for and to report any related experiences to appropriate personnel.

Interaction with Health Care Professionals

A written opinion shall be obtained from the health care professional who evaluates an employee in the following instances:

1. Whenever an employee is sent to a health care professional following an exposure incident
2. When an employee is sent to obtain the hepatitis B vaccine.

Health care professionals shall be instructed to limit their opinions to:

1. Whether the Hepatitis B vaccine is indicated and if the employee has received the vaccine.
2. That the employee has been told about any medical conditions resulting from exposure to blood or OPIM.

Training

Training for all employees will be conducted where occupational exposure may occur. Training for employees will include the following explanations of:

1. The OSHA Standard for Blood borne pathogens.
2. Epidemiology and symptomatology of Blood borne diseases.
3. Modes of transmission of Blood borne pathogens.
4. The exposure control plan.
5. Procedures which might cause exposure to blood or OPIM.
6. Control methods to be used.
7. Post-exposure evaluation and follow-up
8. Where to go for professional health care

Record keeping

All records required by OSHA will be maintained in the Library Director's Office.

Westfield Washington Public Library Air borne Pathogens Exposure Control Plan

The following airborne exposure control plan has been developed. A subset of this plan addresses the avian flu. This plan will be reviewed annually and updated accordingly.

I. Airborne pathogens

- A. The workplace has long been identified as an exposure point for common communicable diseases, that is, one that can be passed from one human to another, directly or indirectly.

The respiratory pathogens, any disease-causing organisms, can be divided into 3 major groups: viruses, bacteria, and fungi.

The world of dangerous microorganisms is in a state of constant evolution and flux. Currently, several pathogens are gaining notoriety for the potential havoc they can wreak.

Respiratory infections can be acquired from exposure to pathogens contained either in droplets or droplet nuclei. When droplets are produced during a sneeze or cough, a cloud of infectious particles greater than 5 μ m in size is expelled, resulting in the potential exposure of susceptible persons within 3 feet of the source (resulting in direct contact transmission). The influenza virus can be spread in this manner.

Coughing or sneezing by a contagious person disperses infectious droplets into the air which may then be inhaled by others. A single sneeze can generate a hundred thousand floating particles, and many may contain viable microorganisms. It is important to note that although sneezing produces a larger number of particles, coughing occurs approximately ten times more frequently.

Most large droplets will settle out of the air within a matter of minutes. Droplet nuclei particles can remain suspended for hours and spread by diffusion or air currents. These microorganisms can remain infective for hours and even days, depending on the environmental conditions. There is, typically, a rapid die-off of microbes due to dehydration in the first few seconds of dispersion. The remaining microbes may be influenced by the following factors:

- source strength (# people/# people infected)
- concentration of infectious agents
- spray factor
- route of infection (inhalation, eyes, etc.)
- virulence of infectious agents
- influence of air volume
- ventilation rate
- host-specific factors (i.e. immunological status)
- relative humidity
- duration of exposure (period that organism remains airborne)

Additional environmental factors that destroy airborne microbes include direct sunlight, high temperatures, freezing, oxygen, pollution, and adsorption.

B. Prevention

1. To date, most literature indicates that to reduce the transmission of communicable

Approved 8/14/2024

diseases throughout a workplace, a properly installed and maintained ventilation system should be utilized.

2. Frequent and proper hand washing—which should consist of washing with soap and water for 15-20 seconds.
3. Cover coughs and sneezes with tissues.
4. Cleaning and disinfecting surfaces that may have become contaminated with airborne secretions—using products that are EPA registered disinfectants.

FIRE EXTINGUISHER INSTRUCTIONS

1. Pull the Pin
2. Aim the nozzle at base of flame
3. Squeeze handle to activate
4. Sweep from side to side

PUBLIC LIBRARY

EPIDEMIC/PANDEMIC POLICY

(Extension of the Westfield Washington Public Library Air-Borne Pathogen Control Plan included in the Disaster Plan 2017)

Purpose

To establish a protocol that will be used in the event of an epidemic/pandemic or other public health emergency.

The Library should plan for staff being unable to report to work in the event of a serious infectious disease outbreak. In addition, during any public health emergency organizations may be required to take measures to help slow the spread of illness such as closing by order of county, state or federal health or government officials. It is important to ensure that core business activities of the library can be maintained with limited staff and reduced hours as determined by the Library Director.

Continuity of Operations Plan – Epidemic/Pandemic

This plan differs from a general emergency preparedness policy or procedure. With an emergency preparedness policy, there is an assumption that staff will return to the building or begin recovery work almost immediately after the event or crisis (such as a fire or storm). If there is a serious infectious disease outbreak, recovery may be slow and limited staff, services and hours may be necessary for several weeks or more.

Library Closure

Westfield Washington Public Library may temporarily close or limit services because of a public health emergency such as an epidemic/pandemic in the event that any of the following occur:

1. A mandate order or recommendation for closure is issued by the Hamilton County Health Department, Indiana State Department of Health, or other local government officials.
2. If a Library employee has been diagnosed with the epidemic, WWPL will temporarily close the building.
3. At the direction of the Library Board of Trustees
4. At the discretion of the Library Director

In addition, Westfield Washington Public Library may temporarily close, reduce its operation hours or limit services in the event that there is insufficient staff to maintain basic service levels or to reduce the possible spread of the contagion. In the event of closure, overdue fines will be suspended. The exterior book drop may be closed or kept open and cleared periodically.

Types of Library Closures:

1. Complete Closure: no staff in the building at any time
2. Library Closure with Essential Services Only: Essential library employees may be required to work from home or on site during closures to perform necessary duties, such as pay roll, bill paying, building maintenance, emptying book drop, etc.
3. Library Closure with Reduced Services – staff may:
 - a. Be allowed to work inside the building, although the building is closed to the public
 - b. Be assigned to provide services to patrons in newly determined ways
 - c. Be assigned to clean the building

WWS Closures

In the event that Westfield Washington Schools close because of an epidemic, Westfield Washington Public Library will remain open unless one of the above conditions under the “Library Closure” section above are met.

Compensation in the an Epidemic/Pandemic

Library will compensate an employee their regularly scheduled hours if they:

1. Contract the disease
2. Are required to care for a family member with the disease
3. Receive a mandated or doctor-directed self-quarantine

In the event of closure, the library will follow current emergency closure compensation policies per the Employee Handbook.

Impact on Staff with Child Care Concerns

In the event of school districts and day care closures due to an epidemic, staff may choose to use their accrued leave or take unpaid time off to stay at home. The library will also work with staff on teleworking and using FFCRA provisions if possible.

Communication

In the event of cancellation of services, programs, meeting room usage or Library closures, the Library Director will:

1. Notify Library staff and Board members via email, social media and the website.
2. Direct Managers to call or email scheduled program presenters, community room reservations, outreach sites, program attendees (if we have contact information)
3. Provide information regarding the epidemic/pandemic on the Library's website's homepage
4. Create signage for updating patrons inside the library
5. Notify local media and other government entities as deemed necessary.

Employee Absences

Westfield Washington Public Library Employee handbook outlines the regular vacation, sick leave and Personal time policy. This policy shall continue to be followed in the event of an epidemic/pandemic or public health emergency while the library remains operational. Pre-approved time off will be honored unless voluntarily cancelled.

Social Distancing

If recommended by local, state or federal health officials, Library staff will follow suggestions and directions to implement social distancing within the library building.

Additional Cleaning Measures

During the epidemic/pandemic, the Library will ask staff and contracted cleaning service to increase cleaning within the building. The Library Director/Assistant Director will devise new cleaning procedures for WWPL during the epidemic.

Responsibility of Library Operations

If, for any reason, the Library Director is unable or unavailable to perform the responsibilities and decisions outlined in this policy, administrative authority for this policy and all Library operations shall be provided by the Assistant Director, with approval of the Library Board of Trustees.

EMERGENCY CLOSINGS (From Employee Handbook pg. 10)

- 1. Library hours may be shortened in the event of severe weather at the discretion of the Director. The media will be notified of such closings.
- 2. If the library is open and an employee who is employed in a staff position does not work because of inclement weather, s/he may: a. Take a dock in pay, b. Take the hours as a personal day, or c. Make up the time within the same pay period
- 3. When the library closes in the event of a city or county weather emergency, the library will remain closed through that business day.
- 4. In the case of emergency or weather-related closings, all employees will be paid for scheduled hours not worked. Employees not scheduled to work on such days shall not receive compensation.
- 5. If the employee reports off because of illness or personal business, or is on vacation and the Library closes due to a weather emergency, the employee will be charged with sick, personal business or vacation leave for the total hours scheduled.

FFCRA FAQ

- 1. May I take my paid sick leave or expanded family and medical leave intermittently while teleworking?

Yes, if your employer allows it and if you are unable to telework your normal schedule of hours due to one of the qualifying reasons in the Emergency Paid Sick Leave Act. In that situation, you and your employer may agree that you may take paid sick leave intermittently while teleworking. Similarly, if you are prevented from teleworking your normal schedule of hours because you need to care for your child whose school or place of care is closed, or child care provider is unavailable, because of COVID-19 related reasons, you and your employer may agree that you can take expanded family medical leave intermittently while teleworking.

You may take intermittent leave in any increment, provided that you and your employer agree. For example, if you agree on a 90-minute increment, you could telework from 1:00 PM to 2:30 PM, take leave from 2:30 PM to 4:00 PM, and then return to teleworking.

The Department encourages employers and employees to collaborate to achieve flexibility and meet mutual needs, and the Department is supportive of such voluntary arrangements that combine telework and intermittent leave.

2. May I take my paid sick leave intermittently while working at my usual worksite (as opposed to teleworking)?

It depends on why you are taking paid sick leave and whether your employer agrees. Unless you are teleworking, paid sick leave for qualifying reasons related to COVID-19 must be taken in full-day increments. It cannot be taken intermittently if the leave is being taken because:

- You are subject to a Federal, State, or local quarantine or isolation order related to COVID-19;
- You have been advised by a health care provider to self-quarantine due to concerns related to COVID-19;
- You are experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 and seeking a medical diagnosis;
- You are caring for an individual who either is subject to a quarantine or isolation order related to COVID-19 or has been advised by a health care provider to self-quarantine due to concerns related to COVID-19; or
- You are experiencing any other substantially similar condition specified by the Secretary of Health and Human Services.

Unless you are teleworking, once you begin taking paid sick leave for one or more of these qualifying reasons, you must continue to take paid sick leave each day until you either (1) use the full amount of paid sick leave or (2) no longer have a qualifying reason for taking paid sick leave. This limit is imposed because if you are sick or possibly sick with COVID-19, or caring for an individual who is sick or possibly sick with COVID-19, the intent of FFCRA is to provide such paid sick leave as necessary to keep you from spreading the virus to others.

If you no longer have a qualifying reason for taking paid sick leave before you exhaust your paid sick leave, you may take any remaining paid sick leave at a later time, until December 31, 2020, if another qualifying reason occurs.

In contrast, if you and your employer agree, you may take paid sick leave intermittently if you are taking paid sick leave to care for your child whose school or place of care is closed, or whose child care provider is unavailable, because of COVID-19 related reasons. For example, if your child is at home because his or her school or place of care is closed, or child care provider is unavailable, because of COVID-19 related reasons, you may take paid sick leave on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays to care for your child, but work at your normal worksite on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

The Department encourages employers and employees to collaborate to achieve maximum flexibility. Therefore, if employers and employees agree to intermittent leave on less than a full work day for employees taking paid sick leave to care for their child whose school or place of care is closed, or child care provider is unavailable, because of COVID-19-related reasons, the Department is supportive of such voluntary arrangements.

3. May I take my expanded family and medical leave intermittently while my child's school or place of care is closed, or child care provider is unavailable, due to COVID-19 related reasons, if I am not teleworking?

Yes, but only with your employer's permission. Intermittent expanded family and medical leave should be permitted only when you and your employer agree upon such a schedule. For example, if your employer and you agree, you may take expanded family and medical leave on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, but work Tuesdays and Thursdays, while your child is at home because your child's school or place of care is closed, or child care provider is unavailable, due to COVID-19 related reasons, for the duration of your leave.

The Department encourages employers and employees to collaborate to achieve flexibility. Therefore, if employers and employees agree to intermittent leave on a day-by-day basis, the Department supports such voluntary arrangements.

4. If my employer closed my worksite before April 1, 2020 (the effective date of the FFCRA), can I still get paid sick leave or expanded family and medical leave?

No. If, prior to the FFCRA's effective date, your employer sent you home and stops paying you because it does not have work for you to do, you will not get paid sick leave or expanded family and medical leave but you may be eligible for unemployment insurance benefits. This is true whether your employer closes your worksite for lack of business or because it is required to close pursuant to a Federal, State, or local directive. You should contact your State workforce agency or State unemployment insurance office for specific questions about your eligibility. For additional information, please refer to <https://www.careeronestop.org/LocalHelp/service-locator.aspx>.

It should be noted, however, that if your employer is paying you pursuant to a paid leave policy or State or local requirements, you are not eligible for unemployment insurance.

5. If my employer closes my worksite on or after April 1, 2020 (the effective date of the FFCRA), but before I go out on leave, can I still get paid sick leave and/or expanded family and medical leave?

No. If your employer closes after the FFCRA's effective date (even if you requested leave prior to the closure), you will not get paid sick leave or expanded family and medical leave but you may be eligible for unemployment insurance benefits. This is true whether your employer closes your worksite for lack of business or because it was required to close pursuant to a Federal, State or local directive. You should contact your State workforce agency or State unemployment insurance office for specific questions about your eligibility. For additional information, please refer to <https://www.careeronestop.org/LocalHelp/service-locator.aspx>.

DISPLAYS/EXHIBITS POLICY

As a community educational and cultural institution, the Westfield Washington Public Library welcomes exhibits and displays of interest, information and enlightenment to the community. Displays of handiwork, historical material, nature study, or any other material deemed of general interest may be exhibited. The Director shall accept or reject material offered for display based on its suitability and availability.

The Library assumes no responsibility for the preservation or protection, and no liability for possible damage or theft of any item displayed or exhibited. All items placed in the Library are there at the owner's risk.

Areas available to the public for displays and exhibits are: the glass exhibit case, the Sumner Room and the general bulletin board. A release form must be signed by the exhibitor before any artifact can be placed in the library. An example of the release follows:

Westfield Washington Public Library Display and Exhibit Release

A. This handbook is intended to provide employees information regarding the Library's employment policies, benefits, and other general data about the operations of the Library. The handbook is a highlight of policies and benefits and is not intended to convey any specific promises or contractual rights to Library employees. No policy is a guarantee of benefits or rights. No permanent employment or employment for any term is intended or can be implied from any statements in this manual. The Westfield Washington Public Library adheres to a policy of employment-at-will.

B. The Library Board of Trustees reserves the right to amend, supplement, or rescind any provisions of the Westfield Washington Public Library Employee Handbook at any time, with or without notice.

A. EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY POLICY

It is the policy of the Westfield Washington Public Library to provide equal employment opportunity to all individuals regardless of their race, religion, color, sex, age, national origin, disability, veteran status, or any other classification protected by Federal, state or local law. This equal employment opportunity refers to all applicable company practices including employee recruiting, hiring, transferring, training, promoting, disciplining, terminating, and all other conditions or privileges of employment. The selection of persons for positions at the Westfield Washington Public Library is to be based on the qualifications and abilities required to do the job.

The Library will provide reasonable accommodations to qualified individuals with disabilities so long as the accommodation does not cause undue burden on the Library. The Library also provides reasonable accommodations, upon request, to employees whose sincerely held religious beliefs and/or practices conflict with the employee's employment, provided that the accommodations do not cause the Library undue hardship. If you require a reasonable accommodation for either a disability or religious belief/practice, please contact the Director.

Violations of the Westfield Washington Public Library's EEO Policy will not be tolerated and will result in appropriate discipline, up to and including discharge.

If you believe this Policy has been or is being violated, you must report the violation(s) immediately to your supervisor, to the Assistant Director, or to the Library Director. Employees may report violations without fear of retaliation.

B. ANTI-HARASSMENT POLICY

The Westfield Washington Public Library is committed to providing a workplace free of harassment of any employee because of the employee's race, sex, religion, age, national origin, marital status, sexual orientation, disability, or any other category protected under state or local law. To be unlawful, harassing conduct must be sufficiently severe and pervasive to unreasonably interfere with an employee's ability to work.

1. Harassing conduct may include, among other things, a) epithets, slurs, stereotyping, or threatening, intimidating, or hostile acts that relate to race, sex, age, religion, national origin, marital status, sexual orientation, or disability; and b) written or graphic material that denigrates or shows hostility or aversion toward an individual or group because of race, sex, age, religion, national origin, marital status, sexual orientation, or disability. - touching, leering, ogling, patting, pinching, indecent exposure, physical gestures, or displaying sexually explicit photographs or objects that might interfere with a reasonable person's work);
- b. Unsolicited and unwelcome demands or requests for sexual favors, sexual encounters, or amorous social engagements;
 - c. Explicit or implicit promises of preferential treatment with regard to a person's employment in exchange for sexual favors, sexual encounters, or amorous social engagements; and
 - d. The use of an employee's or applicant's submission to or rejection of sexual or amorous advances as the basis for making, influencing, or affecting an employment decision that has an impact upon the terms and conditions of the individual's employment (for example hiring, firing, promotion, demotion, compensation, benefits, or working conditions).
3. Given the nature of this type of conduct and the serious effects such conduct can have on the person harassed and the accused, the Westfield Washington Public Library treats alleged violations of this policy seriously and, to the extent possible, confidentially. The Westfield Washington Public Library expects all individuals to treat alleged violations in the same responsible manner. Violations of this policy will not be tolerated and will result in appropriate discipline, up to and including discharge.

C. NON-RETALIATION POLICY

The Westfield Washington Public Library's Equal Employment Opportunity and Anti-Harassment Policies will have little positive effect unless the Westfield Washington Public Library's employees can report violations of those policies without fear of retaliation from the Library or fellow employees. Consequently, the Westfield Washington Public Library cannot and will not tolerate acts of reprisal taken against any employee for reporting what he or she, in good faith, reasonably believes constitutes a violation of either policy, and no employee will suffer any adverse employment consequences because of such a report. Any employee of the Westfield Washington Public Library who retaliates against or harasses another employee for making such a report, or encourages another to do so, will receive appropriate discipline, up to and including discharge.

For the purpose of this policy, a relative is any person who is related by blood or marriage, or whose relationship with the employee is similar to that of persons who are related by blood or marriage.

In accordance with the state disciplinary policy of the Westfield Washington Public Library, violations of this dress code policy may require an employee to return home on his or her own time to change into acceptable attire. The following will also occur:

- The first violation will result in a documented verbal warning.

S. VOTING

1. The Library encourages all employees to vote. Taking advantage of polling hours prior to the beginning or following the end of the employee's workday is encouraged. However, if this cannot be arranged, the Director will approve time off to vote either at the beginning or end of the workday, provided that at least one day's notice is given. This time shall be counted against the employee's personal time.

T. INFORMATION SYSTEM POLICY

Because of the rapidly changing nature of the use of electronic information systems, this policy cannot lay down rules to cover every possible situation. Instead, it expresses the Westfield Washington Public Library's philosophy and sets forth general principles to be applied to the use of electronic information systems and other technical resources.

1. Business Use Only – E-mail, computer, phone, photocopy, facsimile, and voice mail systems are the Westfield Washington Public Library's property and are intended for business use only. The systems are not to be used for personal use unless specifically authorized.
2. No Personal Right of Privacy – Because the Westfield Washington Public Library is sensitive to employees' privacy concerns, it will make an effort to access electronic information systems in a respectful and responsible manner. However, employees must be aware that they have no right of privacy as to any information or files maintained in or on the Westfield Washington Public Library's property or transmitted or stored through the Westfield Washington Public Library's electronic information systems or other technical resources.
3. Under certain circumstances, the Westfield Washington Public Library may access information stored in its electronic information systems. While it is impossible to list all of the circumstances under which access may occur, some examples follow:

- a. During regular maintenance of the system.
 - b. When the Westfield Washington Public Library has a business need to access the employee's mailbox or computer files—for example, if the employee is absent from the office and the supervisor has reason to believe that information relevant to the day's business is located in the employee's files. While electronic systems may accommodate the use of passwords for security, confidentiality cannot be guaranteed. All passwords must be made known to the Westfield Washington Public Library Director because the system may need to be accessed in the employee's absence.
 - c. When the Westfield Washington Public Library receives a legal request to disclose electronic information.
 - d. When the Westfield Washington Public Library has reason to believe that employees are using its electronic information systems or other technical resources in violation of the Westfield Washington Public Library's policies.
4. Computer Viruses – Employees must be extremely cautious about allowing computer viruses into the Westfield Washington Public Library's computers or computer network or causing computer system problems. Thus, under no circumstances may an employee load unauthorized computer software onto any computer owned or leased by the Westfield Washington Public Library. Further, an employee should never open any electronic mail or attachment thereto unless that employee is certain of the electronic message's source and content. All questions concerning computer software, the Westfield Washington Public Library's computer network, or computer viruses should be directed to the Director or Assistant Director.
 5. Harassment – The Westfield Washington Public Library strives to maintain a workplace free of harassment and is sensitive to the diversity of its employees. Therefore, the use of its electronic communication systems in ways that are unlawful, disruptive, offensive to others, or harmful to morale is prohibited. For example, the display or transmission of images, messages, and cartoons that may offend others because of their sex, race, age, national origin, disability, or religion is prohibited. Such misuse includes, but is not limited to, ethnic or racial slurs, racial or sexual comments or jokes, or any other communication that shows disrespect for others on the basis of sex, race, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, religion, or age.
 6. Communications with the Westfield Washington Public Library's Legal Counsel – If any employee is using the Westfield Washington Public Library's electronic information systems to communicate with legal counsel, all messages should be marked with the following in capital letters at the top of the message: "Confidential Attorney/Client Communication." In addition, such messages should not be sent to a distribution list, should not be forwarded to anyone else, and should not be retained on the system.
 7. Violations – Violations of this policy may result in disciplinary action up to and including discharge. Employees learning of any misuse of the Westfield Washington Public Library's electronic information systems or a violation of this policy must notify the Director or Assistant Director of such misuse or violation immediately.

U. SAFETY/WORKPLACE ACCIDENTS

The Westfield Washington Public Library strives to provide a safe work environment for its employees. The Westfield Washington Public Library provides information to employees about workplace safety and health issues through regular internal communication channels, such as supervisor-employee meetings, bulletin boards, memos, email or other written communications.

1. Each employee must obey safety rules and exercise caution in all work activities. Employees must immediately report any unsafe or hazardous condition to their immediate supervisors, the Director, or the Assistant Director. Creating, failing to report or (where appropriate) failing to remedy a hazardous or dangerous situation may result in discipline up to and including discharge. Failing to adhere to safety standards can also result in discipline up to and including discharge.

2. All accidents (which include any event that is not expected, foreseen, or intended) must be reported immediately to a supervisor. The accident must be reported whether or not there is personal or physical damage involved. A near miss, where the potential for injury or damage exists, is to be reported as well. Accidents and near misses are investigated to eliminate unsafe conditions and unsafe acts. If the supervisor is not available, report the accident or near miss to the Director. Such reports are necessary so the Westfield Washington Public Library can comply with applicable laws and initiate insurance or workers' compensation benefit procedures. Consequently, failing to report accidents and/or near misses may result in discipline up to and including discharge.
3. An official accident report must be completed and given to the Director within 24 hours.
4. Any injury that happens on the job, on the Westfield Washington Public Library's property, or While conducting the Westfield Washington Public Library's business, no matter how slight, must be reported immediately to a supervisor so the employee may receive prompt and proper medical attention. The supervisor must promptly report the accident to the Director. The employee may be required to go to a physician chosen by the Westfield Washington Public Library for initial treatment and any follow-up examination required by the Westfield Washington Public Library. If the supervisor or the Director determines medical attention is needed, the employee must comply with that decision.
5. If an injury requires an employee to be absent from work or to incur medical costs, s/he must contact the Director for the appropriate forms to be completed and processed for worker's compensation.

IV. BENEFITS

Any required qualifications set forth in this employee handbook for any benefit conferred to any employee of the library by an independent third party provider such as an insurance company or pension plan administrator, etc. ("Providers") is further limited to and controlled by such additional qualifications as are required or as defined by such Providers in their agreement with the Library of the application submitted by the employee to the Provider.

V. EMPLOYEE CONDUCT

A. INAPPROPRIATE BEHAVIOR & DISCIPLINARY POLICY

The work rules set forth below are intended to provide employees with fair notice of what is expected of them. It is not possible to provide an exhaustive list of all types of impermissible conduct and performance, and these work rules are only examples of behaviors that are specifically unacceptable and, if found to exist, can result in disciplinary action up to and including immediate discharge. Employees should, therefore, be aware that conduct not specifically listed below, but which adversely affects or is otherwise detrimental to the interests of the Westfield Washington Public Library, other employees, or others may also result in disciplinary action, up to and including discharge.

1. Confidential Matters – Discussing or revealing confidential information with individuals outside of the Westfield Washington Public Library or with individuals within the Westfield Washington Public Library who are not authorized to have such information.
2. Criminal Activity – Being convicted of or pleading guilty to crime that reflects unfitness for the job or raises a threat to the safety or well-being of the Westfield Washington Public Library or its employees or property.
3. Public and Coworker Relations – Mistreating, abusing, or intimidating co-workers or others with whom the Library has contact.

4. Detrimental Behavior – Making false, misleading, or malicious statements about other employees, the Westfield Washington Public Library, or its practices, or engaging in conduct which undermines, or is intended to undermine, the Westfield Washington Public Library’s reputation.
5. Dishonesty – Falsifying, altering, or making an omission on an employment application or any other business record; giving false information to management personnel or concealing defective work.

Employment may be terminated at will by the employee or the Westfield Washington Public Library at any time with or without cause and without following any system of discipline or warning. Nevertheless, the Westfield Washington Public Library may choose to utilize certain forms of discipline that are less severe than discharge in certain cases. These steps may be followed:

1. First offense – documented verbal warning.
2. Repeated offense(s) – written warning
3. Repeated offense(s) – suspension (with or without pay, to be between 1 day – 2 weeks)
4. Repeated offense(s) – termination of employment

Additionally, an employee may be placed on an investigatory leave to allow the Westfield Washington Public Library time to review fully the circumstances related to a potential disciplinary matter.

Investigatory leave is not disciplinary and will not be reflected in the employee’s performance review or in the employee’s personnel file. An employee who is placed on investigatory leave and found innocent of the matter investigated will be paid for the regularly scheduled time missed.

Because circumstances vary in each case involving possible disciplinary action, each situation will be handled on an individual basis with the severity and frequency of the conduct being taken into consideration. Although one or more of the steps described above may be taken in connection with a particular employee, no formal order or system is necessary. For example, the Westfield Washington Public Library may also use forms of discipline for a particular problem in a progressive manner, such as oral counseling, then written counseling, etc. However, it is not required to do so, and each instance of discipline will be addressed on a case-by-case basis. If an employee knows, or should have known, that his/her behavior violates a rule, policy or practice, or violates a state or federal law, then that employee may be subject to immediate discipline, up to and including immediate discharge.

Whenever a disciplinary action is documented, the employee will be asked to acknowledge that s/he has been given a copy of the document by signing the original. The employee's signature will not signify his/her agreement with the contents of the document.

B. ABSENTEE/TARDY POLICY STATEMENT

Excessive absenteeism and tardiness adversely affects productivity, disrupts normal operating effectiveness, and overburdens other employees who must cover for the employee who is absent. Excessive absenteeism and tardiness will be grounds for disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

1. Attendance – Occasionally, it may be necessary for an employee to be absent from work as a result of illness, injury, or for personal reasons. In such cases, an employee is expected to give his/her supervisor as much advance notice as possible before the beginning of his/her scheduled starting time. This advance notification is necessary in order that proper arrangements can be made to handle his/her work during his/her absence. If the absence cannot be predicted in advance, the employee should notify the Director or his/her supervisor at least one (1) hour before his/her shift begins on the first day of absence. If the employee must leave work, the Director or his/her supervisor should be notified as far in advance as possible.
 - a. It is the supervisor's responsibility to post notice of the employee's absence on the calendar in the circulation area.
2. Absences – are classified into two categories, Excused and Unexcused.
 - a. Excused Absences – Excused absences are a result of factors beyond an employee's control, such as holiday, vacation days, work compensatory time, leaves of absence, and sick time. Should an employee need to be absent for more than three consecutive work days, s/he must provide the Director or supervisor with a physician's statement indicating inability to work.
 - b. Unexcused Absences – Unexcused absences occur upon failure to report to work as expected. Any unexcused absence of any duration will be considered an occurrence. An employee receives a disciplinary warning for each occurrence. Two or more occurrences of unexcused absence within a 90-day period results in disciplinary measures up to and including dismissal. Three or more occurrences of an unexcused absence within a 12-month period results in dismissal. Two consecutive days in which an employee fails to report to work as expected or fails to call in at least one hour before his/her shift begins will be considered a voluntary quit on the part of the employee.
3. Punctuality – Being on time and working the entire assigned shift is most important to the efficient operation of the library. Tardiness and leaving early disrupts productivity and makes it difficult to function effectively and to meet our customers' needs. It is the employee's responsibility to be at his/her work station at the scheduled starting time and to return from lunch periods no later than the allotted time. Occasionally unavoidable circumstances may cause an employee to be late or need to leave early. The employee is required to notify his/her supervisor immediately in this situation. Two or more occurrences of tardiness/leaving early within a 30-day period will result in disciplinary action up to and including dismissal.

4. Reporting Time Away from Work – Whenever an employee is off work for a period of more than one hour, a Time Off Request form must be completed and turned in to the supervisor. It is the supervisor’s responsibility to see that this report is turned in complete and on a timely basis and signed by the supervisor. In the event an employee is not capable of submitting this report, the supervisor is to prepare the report.

C. DRUG POLICY

The use and abuse of drugs and alcohol can seriously impair an employee’s ability to perform his/her duties safely and efficiently. Drug and alcohol use and abuse not only jeopardize the public’s and co-workers’ safety, they undermine the public’s confidence in the Westfield Washington Public Library itself. Because a drug or alcohol impaired employee can pose a significant threat to the safety of the public and co-workers, as well as the employee’s own safety, the Westfield Washington Public Library has established this policy as part of its ongoing efforts to maintain a drug and alcohol free workplace.

1. All employees are expected to report to work free of alcohol and illegal drugs and not to manufacture, sell, distribute, dispense, possess, or use controlled substances except those prescribed by a licensed physician, in the workplace. Nor shall any employee conspire to manufacture, sell, distribute, dispense, possess, or use an illegal drug or alcohol on the Westfield Washington Public Library’s premises, during working time, or when engaged in the Westfield Washington Public Library’s business or an activity sponsored by the Westfield Washington Public Library. The term controlled substances include but is not limited to: narcotics, cannabis, stimulants [cocaine, diet pills], depressants [tranquilizers], or hallucinogens [PCP, LSD etc].
 - a. The only exception is for any employee attending Westfield Washington Public Library sponsored events or attending events as representatives of the Westfield Washington Public Library at which alcohol is served. In such instances, minimal consumption of alcohol is permitted (but not encouraged) so long as the employee’s behavior remains acceptable to the Westfield Washington Public Library and the employee’s blood alcohol content remains under the legal limit for operating a motor vehicle, as defined by state law.
2. Likewise, all employees are expected not to distribute, misuse, or abuse any prescription medications on the Westfield Washington Public Library’s premises. Employees must remember that distribution of prescription medication to co-workers not only violates this policy but is also a crime.
3. The Westfield Washington Public Library looks to all its employees to support this policy to better the overall safety, health, productivity, and welfare of all employees. Employees are asked to discourage co-workers from violating this policy and are expected to cooperate in the Westfield Washington Public Library’s efforts to enforce this policy and in any investigation of its violation.
4. When there is reasonable cause to believe that an employee has inappropriately used drugs or alcohol, the employee may be required to submit to a drug and/or alcohol screening test. “Reasonable cause” testing may be based upon such things as:
 - a. Specific observations concerning the appearance, behavior, speech, or body odors of the employee, including observation of drug use, drug possession or possession of drug paraphernalia, physical signs or symptoms of being under the influence of a drug or alcohol, or signs and symptoms of chronic and/or withdrawal effects of drugs
 - b. A pattern of abnormal or erratic behavior as evidenced by the employee’s work time actions, appearance, or conduct
 - c. Arrest or conviction for a drug-related offense

- d. Having an on-the-job-accident requiring medical attention and/or involving property damage.

If practical, the employee's conduct should be witnessed by two supervisors. If not practical, one supervisor's observations are sufficient. Reasonable cause can also be based upon a report received from a third party observer if the report is independently corroborated.

5. An employee who is required to submit to a reasonable cause drug screen will be suspended until the results of the test are disclosed to the Westfield Washington Public Library. If the test result is negative, the employee will be paid for the regularly scheduled time missed.
6. In any reasonable cause situation, the Westfield Washington Public Library will ensure that the employee is transported to an appropriate facility and then transported back to the work site, where a spouse, family member, or other individual will be contacted to transport the employee home. If the employee refuses to agree to any of these procedures and attempts to operate his/her own vehicle, the Westfield Washington Public Library will take appropriate efforts to discourage the employee from doing so, up to and including contacting local law enforcement officials. Any employee failing to cooperate with any of the procedures described above will be subject to discharge.
7. Any employee who voluntarily identifies him/herself as having a drug or alcohol related problem will not be subject to discipline for volunteering that fact. Rather, the employee will be permitted to take an unpaid leave of absence for the purpose of undergoing rehabilitation or treatment to permit the employee an opportunity to eliminate dependence on drugs or alcohol or to comply with other treatment plans as recommended by a substance abuse professional.
8. Since the key to the Westfield Washington Public Library's rehabilitative efforts is an employee's willingness to admit and seek to remedy the problem, this provision is not available to an employee who requests protection after being asked to submit to testing or after the employee's use of drugs or alcohol becomes a personnel issue based on direct observation or evidence obtained from an arrest or criminal conviction for a drug or alcohol related offense.
9. If the employee has successfully completed the rehabilitation/treatment program as verified in writing by the program's administrator within the time allowed, the employee will be allowed to return to work when work is available for which the individual possesses the skills, qualifications, and experience. Return from rehabilitation may also be conditioned upon the employee's compliance with individual responsibilities, which may include obtaining follow-up counseling and/or treatment.
10. Any costs associated with the voluntary rehabilitation/treatment program will be at the expense of the employee unless the charge is specifically covered under the Westfield Washington Public Library's insurance policy and the employee is an active participant in the insurance program.

D. NO SMOKING POLICY

The Westfield Washington Public Library has a "No Smoking" policy. Smoking is not permitted anywhere in the Westfield Washington Public Library building.

E. FIREARMS

The Westfield Washington Public Library understands an individual's right to bear arms but does not believe firearms are appropriate in the workplace or on the Westfield Washington Public Library's property. Any employee bringing a firearm to the workplace will be discharged.

F. NO SOLICITATION OR DISTRIBUTION

1. There shall be no solicitation for any activity (unless directly related to an activity sponsored by the Westfield Washington Public Library) while either the employee(s) doing the soliciting or the employee(s) being solicited is/are on working time. "Working time" does not include scheduled breaks or meal periods.
2. Non-employees are prohibited from soliciting or distributing literature on the Westfield Washington Public Library's property at any time.

G. REPRESENTING THE WESTFIELD WASHINGTON PUBLIC LIBRARY

Because organizations such as the Westfield Washington Public Library are, by nature, public organizations, employees are expected to have many contacts – with donors, community leaders, government officials, grant applicants, grantees, and a broad range of citizens involved in and knowledgeable about community issues. For the Westfield Washington Public Library to be perceived as an upstanding, forthright community leader, an employee must, during each contact, consider how his/her actions and statements represent, and affect, the Westfield Washington Public Library. Therefore, an employee should consider every contact between him/herself and the public as a representation of the Westfield Washington Public Library and act accordingly, regardless of whether the contact occurs during the course of business.

Although an employee is expected to treat each contact with the public as a representation of the Westfield Washington Public Library, no employee, other than the Director, has the authority, unless expressly given by the Director, to speak on behalf of the Westfield Washington Public Library (including but not limited to speaking to any member of the media), or to bind the Westfield Washington Public Library contractually (whether orally or in writing). If an employee is approached by any member of the media, or any organization or person seeking to enter into a business relationship with the Westfield Washington Public Library, the employee must direct them to the Director. Anyone who, without express permission from the Director, speaks to the media on behalf of the Westfield Washington Public Library or about Westfield Washington Public Library business, or attempts to bind the Westfield Washington Public Library to a contractual or business arrangement with another person or entity, may be disciplined up to and including termination.

Finally, from time to time the Westfield Washington Public Library or a third party representing the Westfield Washington Public Library may take pictures of employees engaged in work-related activities for use in advertising, Library brochures, etc. If an employee objects to this, that employee should notify his/her supervisor or the Director prior to the photographer taking the pictures. If an employee does not voice an objection, the Westfield Washington Public Library will presume the employee has none. Employees will not be compensated for use of their likeness in a Westfield Washington Public Library photograph. Members of the news media may also take pictures of employees at Westfield Washington Public Library- related events or other newsworthy events. Any objections to the news media's use of an employee's picture must be directed to the organization taking the pictures rather than to his/her supervisor or the Director.

H. WORKPLACE VIOLENCE

Nothing is more important to the Westfield Washington Public Library than the safety and security of its employees. Threatening, intimidating, malicious, or violent behavior directed toward employees or other individuals by anyone on the Westfield Washington Public Library's property, at an event sponsored by the Westfield Washington Public Library, or during work time will not be tolerated.

1. The purpose of this policy is to minimize the potential risk of personal injuries to employees or to others and to reduce the possibility of damage to the Westfield Washington Public Library's property in the event someone, for whatever reason, may be unhappy with a decision by the Westfield Washington Public Library or an action by an employee or member of management.
2. The Westfield Washington Public Library will initiate a decisive and appropriate response to inappropriate behavior. This response may include, but is not limited to, termination of a business relationship, reassignment of job duties, suspension or termination of employment, and/or criminal prosecution of the person(s) involved.
3. All employees are responsible for notifying the Director of any possible violations of this policy. Possible violations include threatening, intimidating, malicious, or violent behavior of which an employee has been the target, has witnessed, or has heard about from another individual if the behavior is job-related or has been or might be carried out on the Westfield Washington Public Library's property. Employees are responsible for making this report regardless of the relationship between the individual who initiated the inappropriate behavior and the person who was the target of the behavior.
4. If an employee receives or overhears any threatening communications from an employee or outside third party, that employee should report it to his/her supervisor or the Director at once. Employees are not to engage in either physical or verbal confrontation with a potentially violent individual. If an employee encounters an individual who is threatening immediate harm to another employee or anyone else on library premises, s/he should contact an emergency agency (such as 911) immediately.
5. All reports of work-related threats will be kept confidential to the extent possible, investigated, responded to, and documented. Employees are expected to report and participate in an investigation of any suspected or actual cases of workplace violence.
6. Violations of this policy, including an employee's failure to report or fully cooperate in the Westfield Washington Public Library's investigation, may result in disciplinary action up to and including discharge.

EVERGREEN INDIANA CIRCULATION POLICY

REGISTERING A PATRON

EVERGREEN INDIANA LIBRARY CARD

An Evergreen Indiana library card is required in order to check out materials at an Evergreen Indiana Library. Library directors and managers have discretionary ability in special cases. A digital replica of the library card is also an appropriate form of identification for a patron to check out materials. Patrons of the Evergreen Indiana Consortium libraries presenting Proper Identification are eligible to receive an Evergreen Indiana library card from their home library subject to certain limitations (see below, Loss of Privileges). An Evergreen Indiana library card is not transferable.

Patrons of Indiana public libraries not participating in the Evergreen Indiana Consortium may receive a library card at an Evergreen Indiana library pursuant to reciprocal borrower and other agreements. Users from non-participating Indiana libraries will not have the same privileges as Evergreen Indiana patrons and such cards may be suspended at any time without notice.

Resident and Outreach cards are valid for two years. Nonresident, Reciprocal Borrower, Temporary, PLAC and Student cards are valid for one year.

ELIGIBILITY FOR OBTAINING AN EVERGREEN INDIANA LIBRARY CARD

Residents of Indiana presenting Proper Identification (see below for definition of "Proper Identification") that establishes that the individual resides in or pays real property taxes on property owned in the library's service area (the "library district") are eligible to receive a green Evergreen Indiana "resident" library card.

Indiana residents not residing in a library district may be eligible to purchase or otherwise obtain an Evergreen Indiana Library card as a non-resident, PLAC, reciprocal borrower or township contract user subject to the laws and regulations covering these types of cards. Non-resident cards and PLAC cards are issued to those individuals residing outside the library district who purchase library cards with full access to library materials and services. All other card holders: student, computer usage and reciprocal borrower cards are given limited access to services and materials. Reciprocal borrowers, students, transitional, and computer users should be given a blue Evergreen Indiana card which indicates that their borrowing privileges are limited to the issuing library.

Applicants for an Evergreen Indiana library card must present the required Proper Identification in person at the Evergreen Indiana library that will issue the library card (see below for definition of "Proper Identification"). Property owners who do not reside in Indiana will be required to show proof of real property ownership, such as a tax bill or deed.

Signing and/or taking receipt of an Evergreen Indiana library card denotes acceptance of responsibility for all fines and fees and for payment for lost or damaged materials. Patrons are advised to contact their library to report a lost or stolen library card.

Patrons changing their home library designations will be asked to provide identification and proof of current address. Proof of current address may be satisfied by the presentation of Proper Identification and if necessary, one item from the Recommended List of ID which displays a current address.

MINORS

An adult showing Proper Identification may register a minor child for an Evergreen Indiana library card. Registering a minor child for an Evergreen Indiana library card denotes acceptance of responsibility for all fees, fines and payment for late, lost, or damaged materials charged on such minor's library card. Emancipated minors will be asked to present evidence of their status to void the necessity of the presence of a sponsoring adult.

Registering a minor child for an Evergreen Indiana library card denotes an acknowledgement and understanding that Evergreen Indiana libraries own and circulate videos, DVDs and unrated television series that may be geared toward a more mature audience and that a minor child will have access to materials for both adults and children and will be able to check out any of these materials. A "limited access" card, which prevents the user from checking out "R-rated" audiovisual materials, is available for minors.

PROPER IDENTIFICATION

Proper Identification must be presented to apply for an Evergreen Indiana library card. Proper Identification is one of the following:

- a valid Indiana Driver's License which displays a current address;
- valid Indiana State ID which displays a current address; or
- a current government issued photo ID (e.g., military ID, passport).
- valid identification issued by another State (e.g., Driver's License)
- valid current university or college identification (e.g., Student identification)

If the presented Proper Identification does not display a current address, the applicant must present one item from the Recommended List in addition to the Indiana Driver's License, Indiana State ID or other government issued photo ID presented as Proper Identification. The ID presented from the Recommended List must include a current address.

Recommended List of ID includes:

- valid voter registration card,
- computer generated bank statement issued in applicant's name within the last 30 days
- computer generated utility, credit card company, doctor or hospital bill, issued in applicant's name within the last 30 days and containing address of residence
- Medicaid or Medicare benefit statement issued in the applicant's name within the last 30 days
- Change-of-address confirmation from the United States Postal Service showing prior and current address of residence (a P.O. Box is not acceptable as a residence address)
- apartment lease signed within the last 30 days
- property tax receipt issued in applicant's name

PATRON ACCOUNT MANAGEMENT

MY ACCOUNT

Library patrons will be given a PIN upon registering for an Evergreen Indiana library card. Evergreen Indiana policy indicates that PINs may only be given in person at an Evergreen Indiana Library, upon presentation of appropriate identification. PINs may not be obtained via telephone or email.

BORROWING PRIVILEGES

A patron must present a card each time they wish to borrow materials and their account must be in good standing to borrow materials.

In most cases, a maximum of 100 items may be checked out simultaneously on an Evergreen Indiana library card. There is a maximum limit of 10 videodiscs, 10 videos, 5 equipment, 6 art, 2 ereaders, and 2 gaming software items per Evergreen Indiana library card. Borrowing-limits are calculated at the consortium level and not at the library level.

If a patron forgets their Evergreen Indiana card, they should:

- Return to the library after retrieving their library card (in this instance, materials may be held for a limited time pending the patron's return).
- Purchase a replacement library card for two dollars ($2). (See procedures above for issuing replacement library card.)

COLLECTIONS: EXEMPT PATRON

All member libraries are entitled to seek recompense for their materials when lost and/or damaged by a patron regardless of the patron's home library. The "Collections: Exempt" switch may be activated for patrons who exclusively access the collection of their home library (i.e., reciprocal borrower or student). Patrons borrowing materials from other libraries may be referred to a collections agency by the owning library in the case of lost or damaged items and may not have the "Collections: Exempt" switch activated. Exempt patrons are, by default, not accessible by the collections agency's search protocol.

Libraries should place an alert on patron accounts for whom extenuating circumstances would suggest alternate forms of recovery should be pursued. Libraries pursuing collections against another library's patrons should review affected patron accounts for such notes and give appropriate consideration prior to submission to Unique Management or any other collections agency.

PURGING OF INACTIVE PATRON RECORDS

Patron accounts will be automatically marked inactive when the patron's privilege expires. Patron accounts that do not reflect fines or fees, items checked out or claims returned activity will be deleted automatically three (3) years after being marked inactive.

CHECK-OUT

LOSS OF PRIVILEGES

A patron's access to materials may be limited due to overdue materials or fines and fees. A patron's card will be blocked, and no new circulation services may be obtained with it if the patron has 15 or more overdue items, or owes $10 or more in unpaid fines and/or fees. Patrons may renew overdue circulating materials until their account reaches the maxfine threshold of $10 or more in unpaid fines and/or fees. Outreach patrons will not be blocked until they have 50 or more items overdue. The number of overdue materials and/or amount of fines/fees that will result in a patron being "blocked" is calculated at the consortium level and not at the library level. A patron's card may be "blocked" if related group or family member cards are "blocked." A patron may also be "barred" if circumstances warrant.

FINES/FEES

To encourage the prompt return of materials, the Evergreen Indiana libraries have established a schedule of fines and fees as an encouragement for the timely return of materials by their due dates. Overdue materials incur fines of 25¢ per day per item with a fine cap of $10.00 or the cost of the item, whichever is lower. Materials with the circulation modifier of "equipment", "equipment-restricted", or "ereader" may incur fines of up to $5 per day per item with either a $225 or the cost of the item fine cap. Materials with the circulation modifier of "hourly" may incur fines of up to $5 per hour per item with either a $225 or the cost of the item fine cap. Materials with the circulation modifier of "special collection" may incur fines of up to $1 per day per item with a fine cap of $10 or the cost of the item.

FINE-FREE LIBRARIES

Libraries may choose not to levy local circulation fines. This is an administrative setting which may be changed up to one time annually. Materials borrowed under this program will be set to lost once the items are overdue by 28 days rather than 45. To adjust your library's fine-free status, please submit a HelpDesk ticket.

JUVENILE FINE-FREE LIBRARIES

Libraries may choose not to levy local circulation fines for all juvenile cardholders at their library with the exception of materials classified as "equipment". This is an administrative setting which may be changed up to one time annually. Member libraries shall, however, pursue whatever measures are feasible and expeditious to recover monies related to materials classified as "lost" or "damaged" regardless of the cardholder's age. This policy shall only apply solely to those items borrowed on site at participating member libraries including items transited from other Evergreen Indiana libraries, IN-SHARE, or the Statewide Remote Circulation Service (SRCS). Items borrowed directly from another Evergreen Indiana library using a participating member card shall be subject to the policies of that library.

PAYING FINES/FEES

Evergreen Indiana library fines and fees may be paid at any Evergreen library. Patrons may pay all or a portion of overdue fines. A patron's record will remain blocked or barred until the fines and fees are paid or the patron has resolved the matter with the particular library to restore his or her privileges. A patron may be (or remain) "blocked" if related group or family member cards are "blocked."

OVERDUE NOTICES

Overdue notices are sent as a courtesy from the Evergreen Indiana Libraries. Failure to receive notices does not exempt patrons from the responsibility for payment for library materials or overdue fines and fees.

ALTERNATE ID OPTION

As an occasional courtesy, a patron's home library may offer to circulate materials to a patron by looking up the patron's account using a current driver's license. The current license must match the driver's license ID number and/or the complete combination of name, DOB, and address in the Evergreen Indiana system. Patrons traveling to Evergreen Indiana libraries other than their home library must present their official Evergreen Indiana library card at all times. Patrons who repeatedly fail to present their library card at their home library will be required to purchase a replacement card.

CHECK-IN

LOST ITEMS

A patron may inform library staff that an item is "LOST." The price of the item and any outstanding fines and fees, plus a processing fee of $10.00 per item, will be assessed to the patron's card. A patron is encouraged to notify the library that an item is "LOST" to stop the accruing of additional overdue fines. On issuance of the 45-day notice or declaration of loss or damage, the associated circulation fees are reassigned to the owning library.

Some Evergreen Indiana Libraries have contracted with third party vendors for collection services. If third party collection services are used, a fee for collection services will be added to the patron's record.

RECOVERING LOST ITEMS AND REFUNDING PAYMENT

No refund will be given to a patron for a "Lost" item for which a patron has paid. In addition, no fines/fees and third party collection fees will be refunded.

PAID-FOR ITEMS

Materials which are billed to the patron at the full replacement cost of the item, e.g. Lost or Damaged holdings, become the property of the patron once the bill has been paid in full. Unpaid-for Damaged materials which are not a danger to the library or library staff may be held for 6 months pending payment; after 6 months, with payment still due, the item may be destroyed.

RENEWALS

Renewal requests may be made in person, by phone or via the online catalog "My Account" feature. Certain categories of materials are not eligible for renewal. If a "HOLD" has been placed on an item, it may not be renewed.

HOLDS AND INTRA-EVERGREEN INDIANA LENDING

Evergreen cardholders in the resident, non-resident, PLAC, outreach, temp and staffcard profiles have full access to the consortium and may place holds on any Evergreen library's holdable materials. Reciprocal borrower, student, transitional, or teacher profile cardholders may place holds only on the materials owned by the library that issued the library card.

Holdings may be placed on most items in any Evergreen Indiana library (see list of exceptions below). Patrons will have one week after the hold is filled to pick up the held item. Some Evergreen Indiana libraries may impose a fee for failure to pick up a hold.

Patrons may have 20 unfilled holds in the system.

Evergreen Indiana does not allow holds to be placed on the following items by any patron:

- Reference materials
- Bestsellers with the no-hold designation

Evergreen Indiana does not allow Evergreen Indiana library patrons to place holds that would generate Intra-Evergreen Indiana [transiting] loans on the following item categories:

- Art
- Bestsellers
- CDs*
- Equipment
- ILL
- Kits
- Media
- New Books
- New videodiscs
- Realia
- Reference
- Software
- Software - Gaming
- Videocassettes

There is a pilot in 2018-19 to allow limited transiting of music cds.*

These items may be borrowed by any Evergreen Indiana library card holder. It is the responsibility of the patron to proceed to the owning library and check out the material. The patron may return such materials to any Evergreen Indiana library for transit to the owning library.

A library may place a six-month or three-month age protection on new items. Local patrons may place holds on such items. Non-local patrons may place holds on such items, but the materials will not be transited until the age protection expires. Non-local patrons may place a hold on such an item, select the owning library as the pickup location, and proceed to the owning library to check out the item.

Patrons may place their own holds via the OPAC, and may select their pickup location and notification method. The software will refuse holds requests which do not conform to Evergreen Indiana policies. Patrons may choose any pickup location for holds.

Patrons whose Evergreen Indiana cards are “blocked” or “barred” will not be allowed to place holds until their card privileges are restored.

Exam Proctoring Policy Westfield Washington Public Library

Westfield Washington Public Library (WWPL), as part of our commitment to the educational enrichment of the Westfield and Washington Township community, will proctor exams from an outside educational institution as staff and space permit. Exams for students who are non-residents of the WWPL service area will be conducted on a case by case basis; these students should contact their local libraries to find out if those libraries offer proctoring services

WWPL stipulations

- WWPL will proctor only online or written exams which take no longer than three hours to complete.
- Online exams may be restricted to hours of the day with lower demand for the public access computers, so as not to inconvenience general library users.
- It may be necessary for the student to test the library's computers in advance of the exam date, to determine that the Westfield School's firewall does not block the exam site.
- Exams which require the library to download and install test software onto public access computers will not be proctored by WWPL.
- If the exam contains an audio component, the student is required to provide suitable headphones (and in some cases, such as if the audio component is on cassette, etc., the playing device).
- It is recommended that online exams be scheduled well in advance of the deadline due to unforeseen downtime.
- WWPL will not proctor an exam which is not scheduled beforehand in person or via phone.
- The WWPL reserves the right to decline proctoring requests due to staffing issues or short notice.
- If a student needs to take an exam more frequently than three times a month, we encourage the student to contact another institution as a proctoring site back up and inform us of exam frequency at time of sign up.
- The Library is not responsible for unforeseen events such as network or equipment failure, lost or delayed mail, proctor absence or illness, or library closure.
- There are no options for complete privacy or total silence at the WWPL and the student must work with library staff to schedule the most appropriate time for an exam.
- WWPL will make good faith efforts to return the test materials as required by the educational institution within its general operating procedures.

Student responsibilities

It is the responsibility of the student to arrange for all test taking materials to be sent to the library location, call to confirm arrival, and schedule an appointment with the proctor to take the exam in person or via phone. If the student needs the proctor to be certified by their institution, they must have their institution send appropriate documents required for their certification. WWPL will not require its proctors to take any courses on proctoring.

Students are expected to arrive promptly for their appointment as scheduled. If the student is late, early, cancels the appointment, or fails to show up for the exam, it is up to them to reschedule at the convenience of the proctor.

All deadlines, including testing time, mailing time, are the responsibility of the student, who should take into account delays in mailing, scheduling a time with the proctor, or days on which the library is closed.

The student must obey all WWPL rules of conduct when taking the exam as well as any restrictions. Any returned mail, FedEx, or UPS charges must be paid by the student.

It is the responsibility of the student to be sure that the test is taken within the time period that the educational institution requires.

There is 1 grace day for borrowers to return the Mobile Hotspot Kit, after which it will be considered “Lost” and deactivated. The assessment of damages is to be made by the WWPL and charges shall not exceed the cost of the Hotspot Kit ($226.00). The borrowing patron’s account will be frozen until the Hotspot Kit and all of its components are returned, or until the replacement fine for the Kit (or its components) has been paid. Missing parts will result in the following charges:

Three (3) late returns for any Hotspot Kit checkout may result in a borrower’s privileges being temporarily revoked for 2 months from the date of the 3rd late return. Continued late returns may result in the borrower’s privileges being permanently revoked from all Mobile Hotspot Kits.

MAKERSPACE POLICY

Annie Gotwald Makerspace and STEM Lab (the Makerspace) has been provided to promote creativity, innovation, and technology education in Washington Township. A makerspace is defined as “an area and/or service that offers library patrons an opportunity to create intellectual and physical materials using resources such as computers, 3-D printers, audio and video capture and editing tools, and traditional arts and crafts supplies.” Westfield Washington Public Library (WWPL or the Library) encourages patrons to learn new skill sets in this space but does not promote running cottage industries due to extensive use and wear and tear on community equipment.

ACCESS

- Open hours and workshop times will be posted on the Library's website
- During designated periods, the Makerspace will have open hours during which members of the public are welcome to come in, ask questions, use the equipment, or work in the space. Makerspace personnel will make their best effort to assist and supervise as needed but may make judgment calls based on current traffic and the needs of the public generally.
- Patrons must check in with the designated WWPL staff member on duty and sign the guestbook each time they use the Makerspace.
- The Makerspace will offer workshops to demo and explore educational tools at specific times, however adult patrons can also request access to these tools during open hours to use with their children, at the discretion of Makerspace staff based on considerations like current traffic, available time, age of the children, etc.
- The Makerspace closes 30 minutes before the Library closes.
- When reserving Makerspace equipment, scheduled Library programs have priority, followed by patrons who have made a reservation ahead of time.
- If the equipment is not reserved, it will be made available on a first-come, first-served basis, subject to staff availability.
- A WWPL library card is not required for access to the Makerspace
- Reservations are required for the Recording Studio
- Reservations may be extended at staff discretion if there is no waiting list.
- There is a 15 minute grace period before reservations are canceled.
- The Makerspace and Recording Studio will be locked when not in use.
- When machines are out of order, staff will attempt to contact patrons with reservations. This courtesy cannot be guaranteed.
- Some files can be submitted to makerspace@wwpl.lib.in.us and picked up at the library upon completion.

 - In violation of another's intellectual property rights. For example, the equipment may not be used to reproduce material that is subject to copyright, patent, or trademark protection
- WWPL reserves the right to halt, delete, or disallow the creation of items that violate Library policies, including the creation of weapons, obscene materials, or illegal items.
- Food and drink are not permitted in the Makerspace.

- WWPL is not responsible for personal property or files or the loss thereof.

FEES

The library seeks to recoup material costs by charging fees based on material and machine maintenance costs plus Indiana sales tax. These fees are subject to change. Please consult the fee schedule on our website for current rates.

- The patron is responsible to pay any costs for use of machines, materials, and supplies provided by WWPL, and for all loss or damage to WWPL property or clean-up expenses.
- A current fee schedule will be posted on the Library's website.
- Users are still responsible for purchasing materials used in failed projects due to user error or inferior files.

All items costing between $50,000.00 and $150,000.00 will be purchased only after inviting three quotes from persons known to deal in the lines or classes of supplies to be purchased unless another procedure is authorized by statute.

In accordance with state statutes, all items costing $150,000.00 or above will be purchased following competitive bidding procedures unless another procedure is authorized by statute. The Westfield Washington Public Library will follow all the proper steps for competitive bidding procedures or the inviting of quotes as required by statute or by the guidelines of the appropriate state agency.

This type of social software is intended to create a welcoming and inviting online space where library users will find useful and entertaining information and can interact with Library staff and other library users. The Library recognizes and respects differences in opinion, and welcomes comments, posts and messages. The role and utility of social media sites and tools will be evaluated periodically by library staff, and may be terminated at any time without notice to subscribers.

Materiality and Process for Reporting Material Items Policy

IC 5-11-1-27(j) requires erroneous or irregular material variances, losses, shortages, or thefts of political subdivision funds or property shall be reported immediately to the State Board of Accounts. State Examiner Directive 2015-6 directs each political subdivision to determine its own policy on materiality.

The Board of Trustees for the Westfield Washington Public Library does not condone any erroneous or irregular material variances, losses, shortages, or thefts of Library Funds or property, but recognizes that relatively small items may not justify the cost of the involvement of the State Board of Accounts.

To that end, the Board of Trustees of the Westfield Washington Public Library has determined that:

All erroneous or irregular variances, losses, shortages, or thefts of Library funds or property, or funds or property the Library holds in trust, shall be reported to the Library Director or his/her designee promptly.

As directed by this Policy, the Director his/her designee shall report to the State Board of Accounts any erroneous or irregular variances, losses, shortages, or thefts of cash in excess of $500.00, except for inadvertent clerical errors that are identified timely and promptly corrected with no loss to the library.

As directed by the Policy, the Director his/her designee shall report promptly to the State Board of Accounts any erroneous or irregular variances, losses, shortages, or thefts of non-cash items in excess of $2,000.00, estimated market value, except for those resulting from inadvertent clerical errors or misplacements that are identified time and promptly corrected with no loss to the Library, and except for losses from genuine accidents, which would be covered by the Library's insurance.

Notwithstanding the above, pursuant to IC 5-11-1-27(l), if the Library Director or the Board of Trustees has actual knowledge of or reasonable cause to believe that there has been a misappropriation of public funds or assets of the Library, including information obtained as a result of a police report, an internal audit finding, or another source indicating that a misappropriation has occurred, they shall immediately send written notice of the misappropriation to the State Board of Accounts and the local prosecuting attorney. Misappropriation occurs when an employee or in-house contractor of the Library wrongly takes or embezzles public funds. When there is a known misappropriation or embezzlement of public funds by an internal actor, materiality is irrelevant.

Interlibrary Loan Policy

I. Principles

Interlibrary loan (ILL) is a service that supports the mission of the Westfield-Washington Public Library (WWPL) by providing enhanced access to library materials and information. The purpose of ILL is to obtain materials not available in the library/Evergreen/SRCS system by borrowing from other non-Evergreen libraries. WWPL will loan materials through ILL to other libraries as part of resource sharing.

WWPL affirms that ILL is an adjunct to, not a substitute for, the library's collection. In meeting patron needs, the library will exhaust its own collection. Items in frequent or recurring demand will be considered for purchase.

WWPL will keep its ILL policy up to date and make it available to users and other libraries upon request.

II. Definition

ILL is a transaction in which WWPL borrows materials directly (or through a third party such as the State Library or ALA) from a non-Evergreen or SRCS library on behalf of a patron, or a non-Evergreen or SRCS library borrows materials from this library on behalf of its patron.

III. Conditions of Service

The library endorses the principles relating to ILL included in the Indiana Library Resource Sharing Policy, The ALA Interlibrary Loan Code, The US Copyright Law and US Commission on New Technological Uses of Copyrighted Works (CONTU) Guidelines, and federal and state laws governing confidentiality of records.

IV. ILL Borrowing

Users: This service is offered to any resident of, or property owner in, Washington Township, Hamilton County, Indiana, who is a WWPL cardholder in good standing. It is also offered to any Non-resident WWPL cardholder in good standing. PLAC card holders, Evergreen cardholders and Hamilton County Reciprocal Borrower cardholders for whom WWPL is not their home library should make their ILL requests through their home library. If the patron is attending a university or college, and they wish to borrow academic materials, the patron should borrow those materials through their academic institution's library system. The Westfield-Washington Public Library shall endeavor to borrow academic materials for those patrons who do not have access to an academic library (SRCS has lessened the need for ILL for this reason due to the membership of many of the colleges and universities in Indiana). Residents of the state of Indiana are allowed to have 'membership' access to the state's public research libraries (Indiana University, Purdue University, etc.). If the patron has a library card with one of these institutions, they should try to obtain their academic materials through those institutions.

Types of materials borrowed: ILL is an integral element in collection development. The ILL staff will request materials not owned by the library or missing from the library's collection. Borrowing through this service will be limited to hardback, paperback, large sponsored InfoExpress, US Mail, Parcel Shipping (UPS, etc.) or direct pick-up by a representative of the borrowing library. WWPL allows one (1) renewal of an item by a borrowing library (if their policy allows for renewals), and retains the right to refuse a renewal.

Charges: WWPL will not charge for lending materials, except for insurance, photocopy, fax or mailing costs, if any. Overdue materials will be charged at $0.25 per day. Items which are returned without their book slip (which has the due date on it) will be charged a one-time fee of $1.00. WWPL will charge the borrowing library for materials that are overdue, damaged, or lost on ILL.

In April 2021, under the guidance of the Westfield Washington Public Library's (WWPL) Library Board and Library Director and staff, WWPL set out to revise and update the 2019-2021 strategic plan. We looked at what goals we had accomplished and what goals we would like to further explore. We have also added a section that is devoted to technology as it relates to the strategic goals.

The Process

WWPL's strategic planning process included the following key areas.

- 1) Gathering community input and data – WWPL staff generated a survey to solicit feedback from the community, staff and library board on what their expectations were for meeting their library service needs in the next 3-5 years and if we need to expand on some of our strategic focus and goals we had previously agreed upon.
- 2) Developing solutions - We worked to explore the existing key strategic areas, specific goals, and related investments required to implement the goals to help WWPL thrive over the next three years and beyond.
- 3) Providing a path to results by developing a plan that the WWPL staff and board can live, breathe, and readily implement on a day---to---day basis.

An online survey was conducted from July 1-August 3, 2020. 795 people took the survey. 63.7% of survey takers were regular library users, using the library at least once a month, and 3.52% were infrequent or non---users. The largest age group to respond consisted of 41-55 year olds (33.08%), with the next largest group being 26-40 year-olds (28.43%), and 66-75 year-olds to follow (17.23%). A detailed summary of all survey feedback was presented to WWPL leadership in a separate document.

What We Heard

The online survey explored several topics including customer service, programming, youth services, adult services, outreach, marketing, technology and digital services, collections and resources, overall physical library space and overall 21st century public library trends. All of the library board, staff and community input, data analysis and follow-up led to the strategic focuses, goals and investments outlined on page 2 of this document. We have also include a page devoted to a strategic technology plan.

Evaluation & Collaboration

With the goal of achieving all outlined goals over the next three years, WWPL administration, staff, and board of trustees will regularly evaluate their progress and achievements. Objectives set forth in this plan will be accomplished as outlined and will be reviewed periodically at WWPL board meetings. This balanced and systematic process also emphasizes that the resulting plan will be iterative and evolve substantially over the next few years. In addition, a work plan detailing all the actions/tasks, Timeline, and related budgetary figures was created by the team in order to best carry out and assess the plan.

The keys to WWPL's implementation, evaluation and, ultimately, the success of its strategic plan will be:

- A thorough understanding of the plan as well as active involvement in implementing the plan by staff and the board of trustees
- Frequent and ongoing communication between administration and staff
- Frequent and ongoing communication between WWPL staff and the public
- Active collaboration between WWPL's board of trustees, administration, staff, outside organizations, and the community

2022-2024 Technology Focused Plan

Strategic Focus: Library Usability

Goal: An improved and continually maintained easy-to-use and up-to-date library

- Equipment leasing
 - The library leases most of its desktop computers and monitors. A 3-year lease cycle ensures that equipment remains up-to-date and simplifies the technology budget.
 - Future planning: The library has just leased new equipment for the next 3 years.
 - Access the technology needs of the New Library Building
 - Possible inclusion of a Digital Lab/Podcast Room/Makerspace
- Internet access
 - Westfield Washington Schools provides internet access to the library through their fiber service. This provides library internet users with reliable and more than adequate bandwidth.
 - Future planning: WWS has recently expanded its fiber to 1.3 Gigabit/second and will continue to expand to meet increasing needs.
 - Work with WWS on possibility of continuation of providing Internet access to the New library building
- Shared catalog
 - Belonging to the Indiana Evergreen Library Consortium provides WWPL patrons access to the print resources of more than 100 libraries at a very low cost. The catalog and associated hardware are located and managed off-site, resulting in almost no overhead costs for the library.
 - Future planning: Library staff work to maintain a presence on EI committees to help ensure that it meets staff and patron needs.
- Grant funds
 - Whenever possible, the library uses LSTA and other grant funds to acquire technology. STEM programs utilize iPads, Chromebooks and a 3D printer made available through grants.
 - Future planning: The library strives to stay up-to-date with new technology and will seek grant funds in order to acquire it.
- WiFi
 - The library maintains and replaces its wireless access points when necessary to provide patrons with excellent wireless internet access.

Strategic Focus: Community Awareness

Goal: Increased usage and knowledge of library services by the community as a whole

- Digital signage
 - Low cost Raspberry Pi computers are used with large screen televisions to provide news about upcoming events and library services.
 - Future planning: Seek ways to collaborate with community organizations to share information about and cross-promote programs and events.
- Website
 - The library will review and update its website to ensure that users are provided with a contemporary web experience along with useful and up-to-date content.
 - Future planning: The website, which is 4 years old, is currently being evaluated for major design changes.
- Social media
 - Library staff work to maintain an up-to-date social media presence.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

ELECTRONIC MEETING POLICY

Westfield Washington Public Library (WWPL) Board Members may participate in meetings electronically as long as the library uses technology that permits simultaneous communication between board members, and also permits the public to simultaneously attend and observe the meeting. The library board, however, is not required to permit the public to attend executive sessions that are held electronically.

WWPL Board members attending electronically may be counted present for quorum purposes and may vote on matters presented before the board. However, the board members must be able to be both seen and heard in order to participate in any final action (vote). All votes taken during a meeting with electronic access must be taken by roll call vote.

At least half of the WWPL board members must be present at each session, and at least four members must attend the meeting in person. If a board member or a member of the public experiences technology failure during a meeting, it will not prevent the meeting from continuing, and won't invalidate board actions or votes, as long as there is still a quorum of members present, and the voting requirements of the board's bylaws and policies are met.

Board members may not attend more than half of their meetings during any given year electronically, unless the reason is due to:

- Military service;
- Illness or other medical condition;
- Death of a relative; or
- An emergency involving actual or threatened injury to persons or property.

Electronic participation in meetings is not permitted if the board is attempting to take final action to:

- Adopt a budget;
- Make a reduction in personnel;
- Initiate a referendum;
- Establish or increase a fee;
- Establish or increase a penalty;
- Use eminent domain authority, or
- Establish, raise, or renew a tax

The board cannot prohibit a member from attending consecutive meetings by electronic communication, but once two consecutive meetings have been attended by electronic communication, he or she must then attend at least one meeting in person before attending another meeting electronically, unless the reason for attending electronically is due to:

- Military service;
- Illness or other medical condition;
- Death of a relative; or
- An emergency involving actual or threatened injury to persons or property.

Board meeting minutes for a meeting where a board member attends electronically must state the name of each board member who was present at the meeting in person, who attended the meeting electronically, and who was absent. The electronic communication mechanism (ie. Zoom) should be identified.

Electronic Signatures

If a statute requires a manual signature for attesting or authenticating an obligation issued by the library (bond, note, warrant, or other obligation), an electronic signature will have the same force and effect as a manual signature.

During Disaster Emergencies Declared by the Governor or Local Government Officials

The board may meet completely electronically until the disaster or emergency is terminated.

During such disaster emergency, the board may meet using any form of electronic communication as long as the meeting meets the following criteria:

- At least a quorum of the board are participating in the meeting electronically;
- The public is able to simultaneously attend and observe the meeting (unless it is an executive session); and
- Votes are taken by roll call vote.

Meeting minutes for an electronic meeting during a disaster emergency must:

- State the name of each board member who attended electronically and who was absent; and
- Identify the electronic communication mechanism used for the meeting.

Capital Asset Policy

General Information:

This Capital Asset Policy will be used to provide accountability and to safeguard capital assets as defined herein.

Definitions:

Capital assets include such items as land, land improvements, buildings, building improvements, construction in progress, machinery and equipment, vehicles, infrastructure, books, periodicals, audio-visual materials, works of art and monuments.

Capitalization Threshold:

$5,000.00 for all library assets (real and personal property); including:

Land, buildings, equipment; valuable historical materials, art work, collection of library materials; aggregate listing of computers, aggregate of similar chairs or other furniture in a given room; and anything originally purchased for or currently valued at $5,000.00 or more will be listed on the library's Capital Assets Ledger.

Valuation of Capital Assets:

Capital assets should be recorded at actual cost. Normally, the cost recorded is the purchase price or construction costs of the asset, but also included is any other reasonable and necessary costs incurred to place the asset in its intended location and intended use, which can be directly related to the asset. Donated or contributed assets should be recorded at the fair market value on the date donated or acquired.

Asset Definition by Major Category:

It is important to the maintenance of accurate records that each asset category be precisely defined. This section further clarifies the asset definitions by major category.

- Land: specified by land, easements, rights or ways, lots parcels, or acreage owned by the library or its various departments, regardless of the method

(purchase or gift) of date of acquisition. The library must have the title before the item is capitalized.

- Land Improvements: Examples include parking lots, fencing, gates, athletic fields, and parking lot lighting.
- Improvements Other Than Buildings: Examples of unit assets in this category are bookcases, shelving, walks, parking areas, drives, fencing, retaining walls, fountains, planters, underground sprinkler systems, and other similar items.
- Infrastructure: All items such as streets, street lighting, roads, sidewalks, curbs, utility distribution systems, and storm sewers.
- Buildings: All permanently attached structures designed and erected to house equipment, services, or functions. This includes systems: i.e. plumbing, lighting, heating, cooling, elevator, etc., services, and fixtures within the building, and flagpoles, and all other such units that serve the building.
- Equipment: All other types of physical property within the scope of the Capital Asset Policy not previously classified. Items such as furnishings, machinery, communicating and data storing devices, computers, books, periodicals and similar items.
- Vehicles: Passenger vehicles, such as automobiles and vans, used for library business and promotion.
- Library Materials: Library books include hard and softcover books, newspapers, periodical subscriptions, and audio-visual material (music recordings, audiobooks, video recordings). The aggregate of all books and similar materials with a useful life of more than one year, regardless of the original cost, will be considered capital assets. For accountability and safeguarding of assets an inventory will be kept. (Form 369)
- Works of Art/Monuments: Asset that is used for public exhibition or education. Such an item is cared for, protected and preserved past the initial purchase.

Asset Transfers and Dispositions:

Property should not be transferred, auctioned, or discarded without prior approval of the library director. Removal of assets for any reason should be reported on the capital assets ledger.

Transfer is defined as any movement of an asset by virtue of a change in location or account. If an asset is stolen, the library director should ensure that a policy report is promptly filed based upon value.

Periodic Inventories:

A physical inventor of capital assets will be conducted by the library director at lease every other year. If the condition of an asset has deteriorate to the point that its use is impaired, that fact will be noted. Adjustments to the capital assets ledger based upon additions and removals will be made.

Library patrons who have questions, concerns or complaints regarding the Library's handling of their privacy and confidentiality rights should request to speak to a library manager. The Library will respond in a timely manner and may conduct an investigation or review of practices and procedures.

Library records are not made available to any agency of state, federal or local government without a subpoena, warrant, court order, or other legal document requiring the Library to do so. All staff have been trained to refer any law enforcement requests to library administrators.

The Library takes seriously its obligation to protect the privacy of every patron. Any appearance of inconvenience to patrons to protect patrons' privacy is unintentional, but the Library believes it is a small cost for the assurance that an individual's reading preferences and use of the Library will remain exclusively a person's business.

Video Surveillance

The purpose of video surveillance at the Westfield Washington Public Library is first and foremost the protection of the physical safety of the patrons and employees of the Library. A secondary purpose is the protection of property and protecting the Westfield Washington Public Library from potential liability.

No monitoring will be done on the basis of race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy, sexual orientation, or gender identity,) age, national origin, disability, genetic information, or any other basis prohibited by federal, state, or local law.

Video recordings will be held as confidential library records and will be purged as soon as their purpose is served or as needed based on storage capacity, subject to any other applicable laws. Archives of recorded footage may only be reviewed by the Executive Director or the Executive Director's designee.

In the event that any public law enforcement agency or security agency makes a request for recordings or recording equipment, the request will immediately be referred to the Executive Director. The Library has the right to confer with legal counsel before complying with any such request. If any such request is made, any and all material will be preserved during the period that contact with counsel is being exercised, all subject to applicable law(s).

In the unlikely event that any officer or agency should seize material or equipment, the Executive Director will be notified immediately and the staff member will request a receipt for the material taken. The Executive Director will notify the Library Board of Trustees when any law enforcement or security agency makes a request or seizure as described above.

The Library reserves the right to use the surveillance system for additional purposes, as circumstances require. It will not be used to monitor individuals or groups of individuals unless there is reasonable cause to believe that there has been or may be an infraction of Library policies and procedures or the commission of a crime. It will be presumed that an individual is behaving or performing correctly unless there is reason to think otherwise.

Software for monitoring cameras and recorders will be installed only on designated staff computers at the direction of the Executive Director. Properly trained staff using these computers may exercise their discretion in operating the surveillance system in accordance with this policy. Installing the surveillance software on computers not approved by the Executive Director, installing additional equipment on the system, re-aiming cameras or other additions or modifications not approved by the Executive Director or sharing information in an unauthorized manner will be considered a violation of Library policy.

Approved and adopted by the Westfield Washington Public Library Board of Trustees August 10, 2022

The surveillance system will also be used as a tool to determine things such as the amount of business at service desks, traffic flow, and other routine checks of conditions affecting the safety and operation of the building and grounds. If, in the use of the system in this manner, it becomes evident that there are likely policy violations as demonstrated in the behavior of personnel or patrons, an investigation will follow.

Imminent Danger

When there is the potential of imminent danger to persons or property, any staff member may use the surveillance system as needed to thwart or document any such action. Video recordings or printouts from these cases shall not be posted in any place without the written permission of the Executive Director. In the absence of the Executive Director, all correspondence regarding video surveillance should be conducted with the Executive Director's designee.

This Video Surveillance Policy was adapted, with permission, from The Hamilton East Public Library's Surveillance Policy 1.13. Thank you to HEPL for granting permission.

Naming Policy for the Westfield Washington Public Library

The Westfield Washington Public Library (WWPL or Library) seeks to recognize persons who have supported the Library through substantial financial contributions either directly to WWPL or to the Westfield Library Foundation, Inc. (WLF or Foundation). The Library provides naming opportunities in recognition of individuals and corporations for outstanding services towards the development of the library system and for significant financial contributions. These naming opportunities may include but are not limited to naming rooms in a building, furnishings and equipment, library collections, or by way of a designated plaque or nameplate. Currently, only one building is owned by the Library.

A proposal for naming rooms in a building, furnishings and equipment, library collections, or by way of a designated plaque or nameplate in honor of a member of the community will also be considered when that person has given distinguished service to the Library that merits recognition in the Library's history.

Only individuals and organizations whose action and or programs are compatible with the mission, policies, goals and values of the Library will be considered in naming rooms in a building, furnishings and equipment, library collections, or by way of a designated plaque or nameplate.

General Definitions:

The Naming Rights Policy includes internal features, which may be naming rooms in a building, furnishings and equipment, library collections, or by way of a designated plaque or nameplate. Other items may be recommended for naming after consultation with the WWPL Director and/or Westfield Library Foundation.

Definitions:

1. A room in a building may include enclosed rooms, designated areas such a story-time corner, or interior wall.
2. A designated plaque or nameplate may include an inscribed commemorative thin, fat plate or tablet of metal, porcelain, etc., intended for ornament, as on a wall, or set in a piece of furniture.
3. A collection is groups of books, media, and other information items.
4. Furnishings and equipment include furniture, computers, technology and similar articles that are not a fixed part of the building and have a short life span.

Approved by WWPL Board 9/14/2022

5. Financial contributions include outright gifts of money, securities, in-kind donations and endowments.

Guidelines For Naming:

- Appropriate financial contributions for such naming opportunities will be at the discretion of the Library and/or Foundation. Naming opportunities due to a financial contribution; naming rooms in a building, furnishings and equipment, library collections, or by way of a designated plaque or nameplate may be named directly after the benefactor, or it may retain or be given a functional title following which the benefactor will be recorded as its sponsor. Proposals for naming should be submitted to the Library Director or Foundation Director and should contain specific information in support thereof, including any guidelines on how the donated funds are to be used to support the named room or area. If endorsed by the Library Director or Foundation Director, the proposal will be forwarded to the Library Board of Trustees for approval. The Library Board of Trustees reserves the right to name rooms in a building, designated plaque or nameplate furnishings and equipment or library collections according to what is best for the function of the Library.
- A proposal for naming rooms in a building, furnishings and equipment, library collections, or by way of a designated plaque or nameplate in honor of a person will normally be considered when that person is a major benefactor to the Library that merits recognition.
- All documents must be finalized before the Library issues final approval for a naming opportunity. No publicity shall be initiated until a gift agreement is in place.
- While the Library and Foundation are grateful for and encourages donations from all individuals, businesses and organizations, both have the right to decline any gift to the Library and/or reject naming proposals. The Foundation and Library each reserve the right to terminate or alter a naming designation under unusual or extraordinary circumstances.
- Naming rights will not extend beyond the normal life of the space, although a plaque will remain in the location in perpetuity, acknowledging the name and the donation. In the event the room or building is significantly altered during the agreed upon time when the gift was made, the Library will roll the name forward in a similar capacity.
- In the event that the Foundation or Library does not receive the full amount of the donation for the naming opportunity, the Foundation Director or Library Director may recommend to the Library that the use of the benefactor's name for the area be discontinued.
- When a major building project is to be undertaken, a tailored naming policy may be proposed for naming rooms in a building, furnishings and equipment, library collections, or by way of a designated plaque or nameplate. Such a policy will require the endorsement of the Library Board of Trustees on recommendation from the Westfield Library Foundation.

Gift Acceptance Policy & Guidelines

Westfield Library Foundation
Gift Acceptance Policies And Guidelines Authorization

The Westfield Library Foundation, Inc. (Foundation) was established to promote the development, expansion and improvement of facilities and services of the Westfield Washington Public Library (WWPL) through the solicitation of charitable contributions to support the mission of the WWPL. The Foundation is authorized to encourage donors to make both outright and deferred gifts. Outright gifts of cash and other property will be a priority interest. If outright gifts are not readily negotiable, they will be subject to the approval of the Board of Directors. The types of deferred gifts to be accepted include bequests, charitable gift annuities (immediate and deferred), charitable remainder trusts, charitable lead trusts, retained life estates, gifts of life insurance policies and proceeds, pooled income funds and such other gift arrangements as the Board of Directors (hereinafter "the Board") may from time to time approve. All programs, solicitation plans, and activities shall be subject to the oversight of the Board, or additional committees appointed by the Board.

Purpose

(1) To ensure that tax-deductible gifts are received in a manner consistent with the Internal Revenue Code and do not jeopardize the Foundation's tax-exempt status.

(2) To minimize the Foundation's incurrence of potential liabilities.

(3) To limit the acceptance of gifts which are difficult to administer and inconsistent with the Foundation's investment policy, which is designed to ensure funds for operations for current and future years.

Policies

The policy of Westfield Library Foundation is to inform, serve, guide, or otherwise assist donors who wish to support the WWPL or Foundation activities, but never under any circumstance to pressure or unduly persuade prospective or current donors.

No gift will be accepted or program promoted which is not in the best interest of the donor or violates the policies, bylaws, or character of the Foundation or WWPL.

Persons acting on behalf of the Foundation shall in all cases encourage the donor to discuss the proposed gift with independent legal, financial, and/or tax advisors of the donor's choice, and shall insist that the donor seek such counsel when the gift is irrevocable. This policy is designed to ensure that the donor receives a full and accurate explanation of all aspects of the proposed charitable gift and its appropriateness to the donor's objectives and circumstances.

The Foundation should always seek to serve the charitable giving needs and objectives of its donors by encouraging contributions and volunteerism and properly recognizing the material and personal contributions of its donors.

The Foundation should remain open and accessible to its donors, providing full communication of its activities, use of funds and policies and procedures.

The Foundation must always strive to maintain the highest level of integrity with its donors, always acting in the best interest of philanthropy and scrupulously avoiding actual or apparent conflicts of interest or any conduct that would tend to bring discredit to the donor and/or the WWPL or Foundation.

Requests by donors for anonymity will be honored. Permission to publicly recognize a donor and his/her gift will be assumed unless otherwise requested.

The Administrator and persons designated by that office are authorized to negotiate gift agreements and arrangements with prospective donors, following program guidelines approved by the Board.

All gift agreements requiring execution by the Foundation shall first be reviewed and approved as to form by the Foundation's legal counsel. However, legal counsel need not review each particular agreement provided it is based on a prototype agreement that has been reviewed and approved.

Outright gifts of cash, publicly traded securities and life insurance do not require approval by the board but are to be handled as addressed in the perspective policy manual.

The following gifts must be reviewed and approved by the Board. Before acceptance, relevant information about the gift shall be ascertained, including a copy of any appraisal secured by the donor. The Foundation also reserves the right to secure its own appraisal.

- (1) Outright gifts of real estate, closely held stock, tangible personal property partnership interests, and other property interests, real and personal, not readily negotiable.
- (2) Charitable remainder trusts-if Foundation is serving as trustee or co-trustee.
- (3) Charitable lead trust-when possible
- (4) Charitable gift annuities-immediate and deferred

(5) Retained life estate in a residence or farm.

(6) Bargain sales and arrangements other than charitable remainder trusts where the donor receives an income or other payment from the Foundation.

The Foundation is authorized to offer and accept charitable gift annuities immediate and deferred and shall invest assets contributed for annuities. The Foundation may employ agents and advisors to facilitate the investment of these assets. A regular report of charitable gift annuities, immediate and deferred, will be presented to the Board.

The Foundation prefers not to serve as trustee of charitable remainder trusts except when it is in the best interest of the donor, WWPL and the Foundation or when it is impractical to name another trustee. Agreement to act as trustee shall be subject to prior approval of the Board and/or the Board in consultation with the Foundation's legal counsel.

The Foundation is authorized to arrange for a trust institution to manage charitable remainder trusts where the Foundation is the remainder man.

The Foundation will not serve as trustee for charitable lead trusts and will not serve as trustee for irrevocable life insurance trusts.

The cost of administration of charitable remainder trust and charitable lead trust may be an expense of the respective trusts.

The Foundation is permitted to accept gifts and contributions only as authorized in these policies. The following guidelines are established to assure that planned gifts accepted by the Foundation will be cost-effective and beneficial to all parties involved. The Board shall approve exceptions to these policies.

These policies and guideline shall be reviewed at least annually.

Existing planned gift arrangements shall be audited periodically and a report submitted to the Board.

The Foundation or its representatives shall not engage in offering legal or tax advice to donors or gift prospects. Information on giving arrangements shall be supplied, and donors and prospects shall be urged to contact their personal professional advisors.

Guidelines for Accepting Gifts

Outright Gifts

Description:

An outright gift refers to a contribution of cash or property in which the donor retains no interest and which can be used currently by the Foundation.

Securing outright gifts is the Foundation's highest priority, and donors who are able to make an outright gift will be encouraged to do so.

Guidelines:

(1) The Foundation will accept an outright gift of any amount, though gifts intended to utilize a naming opportunity must meet the minimum funding requirement by the WWPL Board.

(2) Outright gifts of real estate, closely held stock, tangible personal property, partnership interest, and other property interests, real and personal, not readily negotiable must be reviewed and approved by the Board.

(3) No gift may be received that is subject to any conditions or prearrangements, unless full disclosure has been made to the Board in accordance with policies in the manual.

Pledges:

Pledges generally are to be completed within five years. With the approval of the Board, however, gifts over $5 million may extend over a ten-year period.

Oral pledges generally will not be recognized or recorded until either a signed pledge card or the Foundation receives a letter of intent.

Charitable Gift Annuity

Description:

The charitable gift annuity is a contract between the Foundation and the donor. The Foundation agrees to pay the donor (legal and/or other person named by the donor) a lifetime annuity in return for a gift of cash, securities, or other property. The payments may continue for the life of a second individual, such as a spouse if this is contained in the initial contract of the gift annuity. The annual payment is a fixed sum, the amount of which is based on the size of the gift and the number and ages of the beneficiaries.

Rates of return under a charitable gift annuity are lower than the rates offered by commercial insurance companies so that a significant residuum will remain for the Foundation. Written notice of this fact will be documented for the donor in two documents. First, the donor will be notified in writing during the gift negotiation stage. Second, the gift annuity contract cover letter will also contain this information for the donor.

Gift annuities issued will comply with the state of the Donor's residence and shall meet the disclosure requirements under the Philanthropy Protection Act of 1995.

Guidelines:

- (1) The preliminary minimum amount for an annuity agreement is $10,000.00.
- (2) For new contracts, the Foundation will be guided, although no bound, by the suggested rates recommended by the American Council of Gift Annuities.
- (3) Agreements shall be limited to two lives, and ordinarily the minimum are for the annuitants shall be 60 for immediate annuities and 50, with the initial payment at 60, for deferred annuities. Exceptions may be made subject to the prior approval of the Board.
- (4) The Foundation may manage gift annuities, and the Foundation may employ agents and advisors to assist with the administration and investment of gift annuity assets.
- (5) Gift annuities must meet individual state laws governing gift annuities in each state.
- (6) PCSH Foundation prefers to provide yearly payments to gift annuity payments.

Charitable Remainder Trust

Description:

The charitable remainder trust is a separately administered trust established by the donor. It provides for payments to the donor and/or other named beneficiary(ies) either for life or a term of years (not exceeding twenty), whereupon the remaining trust assets are distributed to one or more charities.

A charitable remainder annuity trust pays a fixed amount (at least 5%) of the original fair market value of the assets initially contributed to the trust. This amount does not change, and no additional gifts may be made to the annuity trust after its creation.

Payments made in any one year by a charitable remainder annuity trust to individual beneficiaries may not exceed 50% of initial fair market of the trust.

A charitable remainder uni-trust pays a fixed percentage (at least 5%) of the fair market value of trust assets, as valued annually. Because the value of assets can be expected to change from year to year, the uni-trust payment will vary in amount each year each year. Additional contributions may be made to the trust after it is established.

Payments made in any one year by charitable remainder uni-trust to individual beneficiaries may not exceed 50% of fair market value of the trust on most recent valuation date.

The present value of the Foundation's remainder interest in charitable remainder uni-trust must equal 10% (or more) of initial fair market value of trust. This rule also applies to additions to existing charitable remainder uni-trusts.

There are three traditional varieties of a uni-trust. A "straight" uni-trust pays the stipulated amount, even if it is necessary to invade principal to do so. A "net-income" uni-trust pays the lesser of the stipulated amount or the actual net income, so principal would not be invaded. A "net-income with make-up provision" uni-trust is similar to the net income uni-trust except those excess earnings can be applied to cover accrued deficiencies resulting from the net income being less than the stipulated amount. A fourth variety, the "Flip" uni-trust, should be considered for trusts funded with real estate or family corporations.

Guidelines:

- (1) Where the Foundation is named as trustee or co-trustee, the minimum amount for funding a charitable remainder trust will ordinarily be $100,000.00 but the Board may fund a trust with a smaller amount subject to prior approval. If the donor selects an external trustee, the minimum will be whatever amount is acceptable to the trustee.

Where the Foundation is named as trustee or co-trustee, the Foundation will provide full disclosure to the donor on the investment portfolio as required by the Philanthropy Protection Act of 1995.

- (2) The Foundation recommends that beneficiaries be age appropriate unless the trust is for a term of years.
- (3) The Foundation recommends limiting the number of beneficiaries to two where payments are to be made for the life of the beneficiaries.
- (4) Ordinarily the Foundation will not accept responsibility as a trustee of a charitable remainder trust instrument that is or will be funded with the following assets:

- a. Encumbered real estate

- b. Margined securities
- c. Sole proprietorships
- d. Limited partnerships (unless the Board has given specific approval)
- e. Working interests in oil and gas fields
- f. General partnerships interests

Charitable Lead Trust

Description:

A charitable lead trust is a trust in which the income, or “lead” interest is paid to the Foundation, and the “remainder” interest is given to one or more non-charitable beneficiaries, who could be either the donor or family members. The amount paid to WL Foundation may be either a fixed sum (an “annuity trust” interest) or a percentage of trust assets as valued each year (a uni-trust” interest).

Guidelines:

- (1) The Foundation will ordinarily not serve as a sole trustee or co-trustee of a charitable lead trust.
- (2) Where the Foundation is named as co-trustee, the minimum amount for a charitable lead trust ordinarily will be $100,000, but a trust may be funded with a smaller amount subject to prior approval by the Board and by the co-trustee. If the donor selects an external trustee, the minimum will be whatever amount is acceptable to that trustee.
- (3) The trust term may be at the discretion of the donor, subject to the approval of the Foundation or other trustee.

Life Insurance

Description:

There are various methods by which a life insurance policy may be contributed to WL Foundation. Each method requires a thorough evaluation of policy, insurance company and benefit to the Foundation. A donor may:

- (1) Assign irrevocably a paid-up policy to the Foundation
- (2) Assign irrevocably a life insurance policy on which premiums remain to be paid as long as the Foundation is owner and beneficiary
- (3) Name the Foundation as a primary or successor beneficiary of the proceeds; or
- (4) Establish a new life insurance policy with the Foundation as the applicant, owner and beneficiary
- (5) Under extraordinary circumstances the Foundation may choose to provide for a payment of premium or premiums for the policy.

Guidelines:

The Foundation will accept any gift of a life insurance policy provided that it is under no prearranged obligation to expend its assets to maintain the policy. No portion of the proceeds may be paid to anyone or any organization that is not qualified as tax-exempt entity under IRS Code Section 501(c)3. The Foundation has the unrestricted right to fully exercise its powers as the owner, including the power to surrender, select payment options, designate beneficiaries and withdraw or borrow cash values.

In the event a policy is contributed on which premiums remain to be paid, the donor must pledge to continue paying premiums or give the Foundation permission to surrender the policy for cash value.

The Foundation will not participate in split dollar or reverse split dollar plans, or other partial interest programs. Any charitable insurance program, such as those promoted by the life insurance industry, or individual insurance agent(s), shall be entered into only after a thorough explanation has been provided to the Board and the Board has voted to proceed with the program.

Retained Life Estate

Description:

An individual may transfer to the Foundation title to a personal residence or farm, and the donor or another person retains use of the property for a term of years or the life of the donor and/or another person.

Guideline:

The donor shall continue to be responsible for real estate taxes, insurance, utilities, and maintenance after transferring title to the property unless the Foundation, upon prior approval of the Board, agrees to assume responsibility for any of these items. The donor shall also be responsible for obtaining a qualified appraisal.

Each retained life estate gift will be individually negotiated and approved by the Board.

Bargain SaleDescription:

A "bargain sale" is a sale of property to the Foundation for an amount less than the property's current fair market value. The excess of the value over the sale price represents a contribution. The bargain sale price may be paid either in a lump sum or in installments.

A gift of mortgaged property will constitute a bargain sale. Since the amount of indebtedness is treated as a relief of liability, there could be adverse tax consequences to the donor. The donor should be properly informed of this and told to consult with his or her tax advisor.

Guidelines:

In order to determine the true fair market value of the asset, it must be adequately appraised. In most cases, the donor will be responsible for appraisal cost.

The Foundation, upon approval of the Board and legal counsel, may purchase real estate, securities, or other property on a bargain sale basis. Ordinarily the price paid for the property should not exceed 60% of its appraised value.

A gift should not be encouraged from a donor unless it is clear that there is donative intent.

Gifts of Real Estate (Real Property)

Description:

Gifts of real estate may be made in various ways: outright, charitable remainder trust, retained life estate, and a bargain sale. These guidelines pertain to gifts of real estate in general. All gifts will be evaluated by the Board on a case-by-case basis.

Guidelines:

- (1) All property gifts received will be converted to cash at the earliest opportunity.
- (2) In general, all associated expenses of a gift of property to the Foundation are to be borne by the donor unless otherwise approved by the trustees.
- (3) The donor shall secure a qualified appraisal of the property.
- (4) The Foundation (or trustee in case of a charitable remainder trust) shall determine if the donor has a clear title to the property.
- (5) The donor shall secure a Phase I environmental audit and the results shall be given to the Board. No property containing toxic wastes shall be accepted prior to their removal or other remedies assuring that the Foundation assumes no liability whatsoever in connection with such toxic waste.
- (6) Ordinary mortgaged property will not be accepted as an outright gift, however, may be made when property has sufficient equity to justify assumption of the liability and provided the property is marketable.
- (7) Mortgaged property shall not be accepted for a charitable remainder trust unless the trust would not be disqualified and the income from the property is sufficient to cover all liabilities.
- (8) If a donor wants to give real estate and retain income, a "net-income", "net-income with make-up provisions", or a "Flip" charitable remainder uni-trust is the preferred instrument. Usually, real estate will not be accepted for a charitable remainder annuity trust or charitable gift annuity.
- (9) The Foundation will not manage real property and the property must be readily marketable.

Gifts of Closely Held Stock and Other Business Interests

Description:

Donors may make gifts of closely held stock and limited partnership interest. The Foundation can accept these so long as the Foundation assumes no liability in receiving them, and the property can be sold within a reasonable time period.

Guidelines:

- (1) To be considered for acceptance, limited partnership interests must not subject the Foundation to cash calls or other liability and must not have adverse tax consequences for the Foundation.
- (2) Closely held stock may be accepted if the probability exists of selling it within a reasonable period of time to the corporation, other stockholders, or to others interested in acquiring the corporation. Contributions of "S" Corporation stock will be carefully discussed with the donor and his or her advisors.
- (3) Royalty interests will be considered but working interest will not be accepted.
- (4) Outright gifts of real estate, closely held stock, tangible personal property, partnership interests, and other property interests, real and personal, not readily negotiable must be reviewed and approved by the Board.

Bequests

Description:

Bequests have historically been the most important kind of deferred gift, and they have contributed significantly to the fundraising revenue of the Foundation. The encouragement of bequests will be one of the highest priorities of the Foundation.

Guidelines:

- (1) Sample bequest language for restricted and unrestricted gifts, including endowments, will be made available to donors and their attorneys to ensure that the bequest is properly designated. Donors will be urged to obtain the advice of a professional advisor to create a bequest that is in their best interest. Donors will also be invited to provide a confidential copy of that section of their wills naming the Foundation.

During the probate of estates containing a bequest to the Foundation and during the post-death administration of revocable trusts containing dispositive provisions benefiting the Foundation, the manager of the bequest program, in consultation with the Foundation's legal counsel and administrator of the Foundation or chairperson of the Board shall represent the Foundation in all dealings with the attorney and personal representatives of the estate.

Gift Valuations

- (1) In cases where gifts are made in cash, the valuation is the amount of the gift.
- (2) Gifts of publicly traded securities will be valued at the average of the high and the low publicly quoted prices on the date complete ownership is received.
- (3) Gifts of closely or privately held corporate stock will be valued based on qualified independent appraisal done within the time frame required by the Internal Revenue Service for full tax benefits to be received.
- (4) Gifts of real property will be reported based on the appraised value as determined by a qualified independent appraiser within 60 days of the date of transfer.
- (5) Gifts of life insurance will be valued, for recognition purposes, based on the cash surrender value as of the date of transfer.
- (6) Gifts of services will be recognized at the level the gift relieves actual expenses. Gifts of services of an undetermined value will be recorded at one dollar ($1.00) and acknowledged as received with no value stated.

Appraisal Requirements

- (1) Gifts of property, other than publicly traded securities, must be accompanied by an appraisal if the estimated value exceeds $1,000.00. A qualified, independent appraiser must provide the appraisal. The appraiser cannot be associated with the donor or with the Foundation or any of its employees. When the gift is to fund a specific recognition opportunity, the donors shall agree to make up any short fall upon conversion to cash.

The Foundation reserves the right to refuse gifts of property when it is determined that the donor has not complied with the Internal Revenue Service appraisal requirements or that the advice of legal and/or tax counsel is not being obtained.

All gifts of art must be accompanied by an independent appraisal completed no earlier than 60 days prior to the date of the gift; the cost of the appraisal is the donor's sole responsibility.

- (2) All costs associated with obtaining a qualified appraisal will be borne by the donor.

Gift Disposition
